MALL SCULPTURE — This sculptured fountain is typical of the outdoor art work viewed by San Rafael civic officials and businessmen yesterday as they toured the revitalized downtown area in the city of Fresno. Heart of the project is the $1.5 million dollar mall, with fountains, playgrounds, trees, lights and music.

San Rafael Studies Fresno's Mall

Story and Photos
By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Fifty San Rafael civic and business leaders got a close but damp look yesterday at the fountains, statues and trees of Fresno's six-block, $1.5 million mall.

If some were less impressed than their Fresno hosts might have wanted them to be, the weather was largely to blame. The sun failed to appear throughout the day, and moderate rain fell as the San Rafael delegation wandered up and down the mall in the afternoon.

Reactions ranged from strong enthusiasm over the mall's impact on downtown Fresno to serious doubts as to whether it was worth the whopping price-tag.

Few seemed to question the fact that the central California city's face has undergone sweeping changes—and the mall is at the heart of the pattern of change.

Sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, the tour attracted more than a dozen city officials, including four city councilmen and four planning commissioners.

Their first stop after a four-hour train ride from Richmond was at the newest, tallest addition to Fresno's skyline: the 22-story Del Webb Town House, an $8.5 million hotel finished last year.

There they lunched at the University-Sequoia Club on the top floor and were joined by officials of the city, the Fresno Redevelopment Agency and the downtown association, a group which had started out as the merchants' committee of the city-county chamber of commerce.

In informal talks at each table and at a question and answer session after lunch, the Fresno men told how the mall's opening last fall climaxed a 10-year

Mill Valleyan Badly Hurt In Sierra Crash

Auto Accident Is Fatal For Nevada Couple

George A. de Urioste, 38, Mill Valley real estate developer, was critically injured in a three-car pile-up near the Placer County community of Gold Run late yesterday that killed a Nevada husband and wife.

Killed in the crash were Richard E. Aldridge, 34, and his wife, Gloria, 31, of Black Springs, Nev. Their four children, aged 2 to 11, were hospitalized at Auburn and reported in fair condition, according to United Press International.

CAR SKIDS

The California Highway Patrol said de Urioste's car skidded across Interstate Highway 80 and slammed head-on into the Aldridge car about two miles east of Gold Run.

A third car, driven by Henri R. Joy, 56, of Los Angeles, rammed the wreckage. Joy and his wife, Mary Jane, also 56, were taken to the hospital in Auburn with undetermined injuries.

De Urioste had taken his son with him on a trip to Lake Tahoe in connection with the Incline subdivision he is developing there. They were en route home to 145 Kipling Drive, Mill Valley, when the crash occurred.

INJURIES TOLD

De Urioste's injuries included jaw and rib fractures, head and throat and internal injuries, reported his mother, Mrs. Adolfo de Urioste, wife of the president of the San Francisco Board of Education. He underwent surgery last night and did not regain consciousness until this morning. His wife went to Auburn to be with him at Highland Hospital.

Douglas was also in Highland Hospital but his injuries were described as minor, the senior Mrs. de Urioste said.

Voter Roll Errors Spark Feud At Civic Center

2 Departments Say Other Is At Fault

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A sharp feud between two departments of Marin County government erupted today in the wake of baring of mistakes on voter registration rolls and the charge that data processing was to blame.

"This just is not so," County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said. He was seconded strongly by Arleigh R. Sewell, director of the data processing division which is in Mitchell's department.

Sewell and his assistants charged today that any mistakes on the voters roll—and it's tough now to tell how many there are—are due to the elections department's failure to do its job. The election department is under County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

In fact, two months ago Helmut Endres, a data processing programmer, warned Sewell that a dangerous situation was developing because incomplete and inaccurate information was coming from the elections department headed by John Musser, Sewell declared.

GETS MEMO

In a memo to Sewell dated Feb. 1, Endress said:

"After scanning over documents we discovered approximately 50 errors. After returning the documents to the election department for correction, we received a telephone call from John Musser in which he requested that we punch the map documents as they are, which means with errors. He stated that he has no time to correct the errors."

Musser countered that this was a "mistatement" but he would not comment further until after conferring with Gnoss, who was not immediately available.

'AT IBM MERCY'

On Tuesday, Gnoss told the board of supervisors that he was "completely at the mercy of IBM machines."

Supervisors, expressing shock over repeated reports of errors on the voting rolls, instructed County Administrator Alan Bruce to study the situation and prepare a report within six weeks.

The board saw the need for a systems analyst in data processing to correct the situation but agreed the addition of this expert could not be considered until budget study time in June.

Meantime, San Rafael city elections April 12 and elections in all school districts except San Rafael and Novato on April 20 will be over—and many who want to vote will probably find that they cannot.

Sewell said today that Gnoss's claim of being at the mercy of computors was "inaccurate."

He said affidavits of registra-

BUDGET REQUEST

Marin May Test Voting Machines

Voting machines will be tested in a Marin County election in 1966 if a budget recommendation for the next fiscal year is accepted by the board of Supervisors.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, in budget sessions with County Administrator Alan Bruce and Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows yesterday, said he would like to try the machines.

Should the test prove the value of machine voting, the system might be in operation by the general election of 1968, Barrows said.

It has not been decided whether the machines would be tested on a county-wide basis next year or just in a city election, Barrows said. If tested in a city election, he said, some city in the county would have to volunteer. (All cities except San Rafael will have elections in April, 1966.)

The experiment next year will probably cost the county no money since there is competition in the field and manufactures are eager to stage tests at no cost, Barrows reported.

Purchasing machines to supply all the precincts in the county would be a different propositions, however. Lowest estimate Barrows has heard recently is $200,000.

Bear Valley Trail Opening Set Saturday

Bear Valley Trail, first back-country trail in Point Reyes National Seashore, will be open Saturday, Seashore Supt. Fred Binneweis reported today.

The trail begins near the national seashore headquarters and runs to the ocean through what Binneweis described as "a region of lush natural beauty." Distance from headquarters to ocean is five miles, but there are 15 miles of trail connected with the Bear Valley Trail, he said.

It will be opened hikers, horseback and bicycle riders, providing the first inland public access to the national seashore.

No motorized vehicles will be permitted in the trail, the seashore superintendent announced. Pets cannot be taken along. Smoking is forbidden while in motion. Open fires and overnight camping are banned.

Bomb Threat Blamed On April First Fool

Helen Hodge, telephone operator at the sheriff's office, reported a male voice called at 10:47 a.m., and declared: "Listen carefully. They are going to bomb the federal building in San Francisco this p.m." San Francisco police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation were notified.

RED LOSSES HIGH OUTSIDE DA NANG

But Firestorm Fizzles As Rain Falls; South Viet Elite Unit Almost Wiped Out

SAIGON (UPI) — Reconnaissance pilots reported today they had seen the bodies of 200 Viet Cong guerrillas killed in a major battle near Da Nang. But further south an American-led ranger battalion narrowly escaped disaster by crawling to safety.

The battle 30 miles from the big U.S. air base at Da Nang began yesterday when U.S. helicopters flew in about 2,000 government troops to Viet Cong bases in the area. The guerrillas apparently were caught by surprise and suffered heavy casualties.

The South Vietnamese ranger battalion which barely escaped destruction ran into heavy fighting in Kontum Province 290 miles north of Saigon. The group suffered almost 100 casualties including 19 dead before crawling to safety on its hands and knees.

A military spokesman reported that a massive incendiary attack against Viet Cong guerrillas in a 48-square mile area of Boi Loi forest 25 miles northeast of Saigon apparently failed. The flames created such intense heat they created updrafts which apparently touched off a rainstorm. There was no estimate of possible number of victims before the rain fell.

More than 2,000 guerrillas were believed entrenched in caves and tunnels honeycombing the forest. Air Force planes had earlier sprayed chemicals over the forest to kill the foliage.

The spokesman quoted Maj. John D. Neet of Orlando, Fla. as saying the fire itself was responsible for creating updraft conditions in the atmosphere that could have started the rain.

Top Military Aides Confer With Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will convene a top-level policy conference late today to consider Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's recommendations for strengthening American efforts in Viet Nam.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy said Johnson would meet with Taylor, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency, Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and McGeorge Bundy, the President's special assistant for national security affairs.

Taylor told newsmen yesterday he expected to carry to Johnson "more definitive proposals" for prosecuting the war in Viet Nam after a luncheon today.

Johnson, meanwhile, asked Congress to authorize $1 million for construction of a new American Embassy in Saigon. The President had said Tuesday he would move quickly to rebuild the bomb-blasted embassy there in a move that would "be one more symbol of our solidarity

Artist Gives Up Fight At Columbia

COLUMBIA (AP)—Mother Lode painter Charles Surendorf — who has battled the state over his refusal to wear 49er garb in Columbia State Park — waved a surrender flag today.

Surrendorf said he planned to move his paintings into his home on a hill overlooking Columbia but outside the park boundaries.

"I don't have room to store anything there. This is going to just about put me out of business," the painter said.

San Rafael Continues Hunt For Lost Child

They went on looking in vacant lots, cars and buildings, and put out an all-points bulletin to cover the remote possibility he was kidnaped or wandered far from home.

Most signs, however, pointed to the probability that the youngster, whose family had just moved into a Canal Street apartment, fell into the San Rafael Canal Tuesday night and drowned.

After halting the search during the night, police again sent three boats on the water. Three or four divers went into the canal and grappling hooks were pulled through for the third time.

A bloodhound owned by Reserve Sheriff's Sgt. Michael McLean returned three times yesterday to the same spot on the canal bank near the boy's home. The dog had been given a new scent each time, police said.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said this, coupled with the discovery yesterday of the child's knit skull cap floating on the water, made it seem likely he had drowned.

Stephen, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Feider of 260 Canal Street, Apt. 115, disappeared Tuesday afternoon. The family moved here Saturday from Los Angeles.

More Showers To Visit Marin

Intermittent sunshine warmed much of Marin County today but the Weather Bureau predicted showers tomorrow for Northern California.

Rainfall recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today was reported at Kent and Phoenix lakes in the Marin Municipal Water District's watershed area, .36 of an inch; Fairfax and Bon Tempe Loke, .35; Lagunitas Lake, .32; Tamalpais Valley, .30; Alpine Lake, .29; Woodacre and Larkspur, .28; Nicasio Lake, .27; Mill Valley, .26; San Anselmo and Novato, .25; Point Reyes Station, .24, Sausalito, .20 and Ross, .19.

The weather bureau reported the snow level in the Sierra will average near 5,000 feet but may lower to 3,000 to 4,000 feet during some expected heavier showers.

Dixie Bombers Busy, March Still Planned

CAMDEN, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's racial strife, reaching into this rural town where Negro marchers met smoke bombs, was punctuated again today by a dynamite bombing of a Negro home in Birmingham.

While Camden, a town of 2,500, waited for renewal of marches attempted yesterday, Birmingham's bomber or bombers were at work again.

Dynamite shattered a Negro home there. Two other bombs were planted at the homes of Mayor Albert Boutwell and a City Council member, Miss Nina Miglionico, but both bombs were disarmed.

The explosion at the home of T. L. Crowell, a Negro accountant, caused heavy damage and Crowell's son, Weymouth, 13, suffered a hand cut. He was not hurt seriously.

Since 1956, Birmingham has had 23 bombings, including the dynamite blast at a church

Lady Churchill Turns 80 Today

LONDON (UPI) — Lady Churchill, the late Sir Winston's beloved "Clemmie," marked her 80th birthday today. The Churchill family, still subdued by the great statesman's death last January, celebrated the occasion quietly at a private lunch.

Lady Churchill

At least 20 members of the Churchill family, including most of the grandchildren, were expected to attend an intimate lunch organized by Lady Churchill's son, Randolph, and her daughter, Mary Soames.

Sources said a lunch was chosen to allow as many younger members of the Churchill family as possible to be with Lady Churchill for the special occasion.

Mother Convicted In Slaying

Mrs. Marlin

A jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated four hours and 10 minutes before returning its verdict.

Judge John Draper sentenced Mrs. Marlin, 44, to 11 months and 29 days in jail and fined her $10.

Mrs. Marlin had been indicted on first-degree murder charges in the death of Charles Ray Neal, 20, of Lenoir City, Tenn., a youth she had found in bed with her oldest daughter on the icy morning of Jan. 16.

Harris

Harris, 27, a schoolteacher, had been chairman of South Africa's Non-racial Olympics Committee and campaigned publicly against apartheid in sports. His particular target was the exclusion of non-whites from South Africa Olympic teams.

He admitted planting the bomb in the station concourse during an evening rush hour in protest against the apartheid policy of racial segregation. The court rejected his plea of temporary insanity.

Cosmetics Queen Dies At 94

She had worked at her Fifth Avenue office Monday, then became ill and was taken to New York Hospital Tuesday night.

Miss Rubenstein

She had been in the cosmetics business 63 years. Her firm now is a $100-million annual business.

Her career began by accident in Melbourne, Australia, while she was visiting her uncle's ranch.

The Australian housewives, with faces dried and roughened by the climate, began to borrow the facial cream she had brought with her from her native Poland.

She sent home for more and soon realized that she was spending most of her time advising women on beauty care. So she opened her own salon in Melbourne in 1902. A year and a half later she left Australia with $100,000 in profits.

She operated salons in London and Paris before coming to New York in 1915.

U.C. Conduct Rules Issued; Ban Is Lifted

BERKELEY (AP) — Interim conduct rules for Berkeley campus students of the University of California were issued yesterday by Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson.

The magazine can be distributed on campus, Meyerson said, "if it can be shown to serve the purposes of a student organization." The magazine was banned from the campus March 18 over a reference to a profane word.

Meyerson continued a ban on a student-written play he considers improperly suggestive. The play, a lithograph which sold for 15 cents, was ordered off the campus.

The chancellor said he would continue to work with his advisers on permanent rules for student conduct, explained:

"The jeopardy in which the good name of our students and faculty and of free spech have been placed makes it imperative that these additional rules be respected and enforced while the new regular rules are being developed."

Meyerson in his interim rules listed 27 sites on the campus where card tables may be set up by student groups to sell literature or solicit funds. But the rules insist that the tables must be manned at all times by students enrolled on the Berkeley campus or by U. C. staff mebers.

PG&E Says Most Future Facilities Will Be Nuclear

PLEASANTON (AP)—Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has discovered that many if not most of its future major electric plants in California will be atomic powered.

R. H. Gerdes, PG&E president, mentioned the prospect yesterday in announcing the firm will choose a site for its first large scale nuclear-powered generating plant before the end of the year.

"We believe firmly that many —if not most—of the major electric generating units to be added to our system from 1970 on will be nuclear," Gerdes said.

He said that first large scale plant should be in service by the early 1970s.

The atomic plant's capacity should rival the company's biggest conventional units in producing between 600,000 and 700,000 kilowatts of electricity, said C. C. Whelcher, PG&E vice president for engineering.

Bail Is Revoked

State College Board Warns Entrance May Be Refused

INGLEWOOD (AP) — Thousands of qualified students may be refused entrance to state colleges this fall unless faculty salary demands are met, state college trustees have warned.

Following a special meeting yesterday, the Board of Trustees of California State Colleges issued a resolution saying there will be 'no choice but to refuse admission" unless early action is taken "on salary increases and an adequate support budget."

The board also authorized enrollment ceilings to be set at individual colleges. A present enrollment of 150,000 students and 18 colleges fall under the supervision of the board.

The trustees also reaffirmed their support of a $165 million budget request. The request was cut to $135 million in Gov. Brown's budget.

Sukarno, Bunker Hold Conference

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian President Sukarno met today with American presidential envoy Ellsworth Bunker to discuss the deterioration in relations between the two countries.

Emerging from a one hour meeting, Sukarno told newsmen: "We had a frank discussion in a friendly atmosphere."

Bunker said the talk was "constructive" and a wide variety of subjects was discussed.

Planes Grounded As Pilots Strike

Pan Am, the country's largest international airline, announced a shutdown yesterday night.

Thousands of travelers were grounded. But many others were rebooked on other overseas carriers.

The pilots said they would continue to fly government-chartered flights to South Viet Nam, Germany and other points where the United States has military installations.

The AFL-CIO Air Line Pilots Association declared the strike in effect at 7 o'clock last night after contract negotiatins here collapsed. The union said at its Chicago headquarters that all flights that began before the strike call would continue to their scheduled destinations and no passenger would be stranded far from home.

The union has 1,528 members employed by Pan Am, which has a total of 26,500 employees around the world. The airline serves 17 American gateway cities and more than three-score foreign countries. It normally carries 14,000 passengers a day, with about 4,000 of them streaming in and out of Kennedy Airport here.

Leverett Edwards, a member of the National Mediation Board, said the negotiations collapsed mainly over the issue of the number of hours a pilot can be required to remain on the flight deck. The pilots demanded a reduction in the basic 80-hours-a-month work schedule.

Marinwood Names Acting Fire Chief

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night agreed after a closed session to put Senior Capt. James Cameron in charge of the Marinwood Fire Department until a decision can be made on a new chief.

The directors accepted the resignation of Chief Joseph D. Medley, effective today. He quit, saying his salary of $580 was not enough.

Directors asked the fire commission for a recommendation on an increase in pay for Cameron in his new job in charge of the department. They also agreed to hire a junior fireman to fill the vacancy on the department, at a starting salary of $400 a month.

Consideration of the plans for a wood frame maintenance building was postponed until the next meeting of the board, April 15.

Teen Dance Planned

AND YOU CAN SMILE TILL IT HURTS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson wants his tax collectors to smile while they are wringing that last dime out of their victims.

"I cannot overstress the importance of courtesy and decent treatment of the taxpayers of this nation," Johnson told a gathering of Internal Revenue Service district directors yesterday.

"None of us must ever forget that all of us are servants of the people," he added.

Jackie To Miss Garden Honors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former First Lady will be absent when the Jacqueline Kennedy garden is dedicated at the White House April 22.

The White House announced Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will officiate at the ceremony officially opening the $10,000 garden on the east side of the mansion.

Mrs. Kennedy was invited, but her press secretary said she will not attend the ceremony. The widow of President John F. Kennedy is vacationing in Florida.

Bequests To Russ, Chinese Orphanges Being Disputed

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Mrs. Keria D. Rogers left the bulk of her $200,000 estate to orphanages in Moscow and Peking but an appeal court ruling may thwart her last desire.

Mrs. Rogers, a native of Russia, died March 12 at the age of 75. Details of her will were disclosed yesterday in probate court.

A widow who built her fortune through property transactions, Mrs. Rogers left $16,000 in individual bequests, including $3,000 each to Soviet Cosmonauts Yuri Gagarin and Gherman S. Titov.

She specified that the remainder should go to the orphanage or orphanages in Peking and Moscow.

But probate court aides in San Diego said that the Fourth District Court of Appeal ruled in 1961 that there are no reciprocal inheritance rights between the United States and Russia. The court said that in that case, the money should go to the federal government or to California.

Mrs. Rogers left no known survivors. A friend, Mrs. Julia Van Boom, said that Mrs. Rogers once told her she was making out her will in this way because of her memories of Russia and China.

"I was born in Russia and the Chinese people were always nice to me. Besides, I met my husband in Shanghai when he was serving in the U. S. Navy there many years ago," she was quoted as saying.

A hearing on Mrs. Rogers' will is scheduled for Tuesday.

Bay Group Backers Not Heard–Again

For the second time a Marin delegation traveled to Sacramento yesterday to back Sen. J. Eugene McAteer's Bay Conservation Study Commission bill before the Senate Committee on Government Efficiency—and for the second time returned without having had its say.

Some members of the 28-person group "were not exactly charmed with the attitude of Senator McCarthy," said Mary Henry of Corte Madera, a member of the group.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, is a member of the committee. He and some other members left the hearing about noon, forcing it to stop for lack of a quorum, reported William F. Upton, of Bayside Acres near San Rafael, who led the group.

Upton with 21 other Marin residents, some representing county conservation groups, traveled by chartered bus to the capitol last week. They were not heard before the committee adjourned. It happened again yesterday. But Upton said he and others would try again when the committee convenes at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday.

"I think it is the opinion of the group that the whole procedure was not what they expected," Upton said.

The McAteer bill would set up a bay study group which, during its life to 1969, would have control over bay fill permits and would recommend further bay fill controls to the legislature.

tion which come from Musser's office are checked and rechecked as they go on tapes to be fed into computers.

This affidavit tape is correlated with a map tape which produces the precincts and various governmental districts for each voter.

Failure to keep the map up to date that has resulted in most of the errors in the rolls, Sewell charged.

Endres said soon after the supervisorial redistricting, there were 10,000 affidavits which could not be placed due to insufficiency of map information supplied by Musser.

Corrections and completion of the map information brought the list of unplaced affidavits down to 1,800.

But since March 1, the deadline date for the April 20 election, there were 285 map changes made, which could affect many voters.

If a street is omitted from a map schedule, no one living on the street would be able to vote.

Larry Qvistgaard, systems supervisor in data processing, guessed there are "about 300" who are not on the rolls due to map insufficiencies. Endres did not think it possible to give a figure.

Sewell and his assistants agreed that the changing of supervisorial district boundaries caused the problem. They emphasized they can produce accurate registration records only when accurate information is given them by the elections department.

"My people have spent countless hours in investigating alleged errors," Sewell said in a two-page memo to County Administrator Bruce today. "Invariably these have been traced back to faulty input data or failure to properly edit output data furnished for control purposes."

$5,000 Arc Welder Stolen

Theft of an arc welder, worth about $5,000, from the utility yard of D. D. Altermatt, pipeline contractor, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Jack Moseley, firm foreman, said a tow truck apparently was used to haul the 1,000-pound, gas-powered welder away from the yard at Jacoby and Auburn streets, San Rafael, during the past three weeks. Loss was discovered Tuesday.

Theft of an automobile stereo set and 14 tapes from the car of James H. Koenig, Building 5, Circle Road, Tiburon, was also reported by deputies. Koenig told officers the theft occurred at his home either Tuesday or yesterday. Value was estimated at $335.

Closing Concert Is On Saturday

The Danzi Woodwind quintet will be presented Saturday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

The Independent-Journal reported in error yesterday that the concert would be Sunday.

This will be the closing concert in the Homestead Valley Improvemenet Club's 1964-65 chamber music series.

The players of flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon and horn are all first chairmen with the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Orchestra and the Netherlands Opera Orchestra. They will perform works by Mozart, Francois R. Gebauer, Ingolf Dahl, Jacques Ibert and Hindemith.

Small Novato Dog Wounded By Bullet

A five-year-old chihuahua dog was shot through the right rear leg about 4 p.m. yesterday, according to police. The dog, owned by Donald Sherwood Freeze of 11 Nova Lane, Novato, was taken to a veterinarian who said the wound appeared to have been made by a .22 caliber bullet.

with the people of Viet Nam."

Announcement of the White House session came about the time Rusk was meeting with representatives of 17 nonaligned governments, which are appealing for Vietnamese peace negotiations with no strings attached.

The group voiced "deep concern" over "the ever-worsening dangerous situation in Viet Nam."

Although the United States has kept the door open to possible negotiations, Washington officials said North Viet Nam has given no hint that it intends to abandon its assault on South Viet Nam. This, in the American view, is a prerequisite to any peace talks.

Ex-Regent Leaves Cash To Schools

Will of Jesse Henry Steinhart, 83-year-old Belvedere resident and former University of California regent who died last Thursday, left $50,000 to each of two universities and the bulk of his yet undetermined estate to a trust fund for his wife, Genevieve.

A petition for probate of the May.1, 1961, will was filed today in Marin Superior Court. It disclosed the bequests to the University of California and University of San Francisco.

A $100,000 designation was also made to Genevieve and Jesse Steinhart Trust, according to San Francisco attorney Marc H. Montheimer, who filed the petition. With minor exceptions, the remainder goes to the widow, of 104 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere.

The trust on death of Mrs. Steinhart, provides for a son, John H. Steinhart, Palo Alto, the attorney said. A daughter, Mrs. Louise Loeb of New York, is provided for elsewhere, he said.

The elder Steinhart was a San Francisco lawyer and civic leader. He and his wife resided in Belvedere the past four years.

$300,000 Suit Filed In Injury

A Sausalito legal book publishing executive and a San Francisco attorney today filed a $300,000 personal injury damage suit in Marin Superior Court in a rear-end traffic accident last May 27 on Tiburon Boulevard.

Plaintiffs Theodore R. Henry, 60, of 86 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, and Mansfield Davis, 44, allege they suffered head, neck, and other body injuries as result of a collision caused by negligent driving of Ronald E. Imhaus, 37, of 78 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael.

Davis, with Henry as passenger, was driving on Tiburon Boulevard just west of Lyford Drive when the Imhaus vehicle struck his car's rear, California Highway Patrol said.

Shoplifter Invades Novato Haberdashery

Someone took a jacket and three shirts valued at $46 from the Novato Men's Store at 875 Grant Avenue, Rose Volk of 756 Sun Lane, Novato, reported yesterday to police.

The theft was believed to have occurred between 5 and 6 p.m. Tuesday, she said.

RACIAL

Sept. 15, 1963, when four Negro girls were killed during Sunday school.

In Camden, the Negro school, Camden Academy, was the target of a boycott effort which brought two attempted marches yesterday as part of the Negro voter drive.

A Camden Negro minister and SCLC member explained the purpose of the drive against Camden Academy — the only accredited school in the county — and its principal, James Hobbs.

The Rev. Daniel Harrell said the objective "is to stop the principal from prohibiting the students from staying out of school."

"This is an indirect protest," he said, "because the parents are prohibited from voting. We will keep the students out of school until their parents are allowed to vote."

Sheriff P. C. Jenkins said Wilcox County — about 40 miles southwest of Selma — has a population of 20,000 with Negroes making up nearly 80 per cent of the total. There is one Negro voter — registered during the past few weeks.

The demonstrators, most of them teen-agers, began their activities at St. Francis Baptist Church about three miles from the Camden city limits.

The marchers were met at the city line by Mayor Reg Albritton, 10 auxiliary policemen, 9 state troopers and the sheriff. The auxiliary policemen — the city has only three regular officers — were wearing steel helmets and carrying pistols and canisters.

The mayor, 42, ordered the demonstrators to stop at the line because they did not have a parade permit.

One of the demonstrators crossed the line. The mayor said he told the youngster to get back across the line three times and then threw a smoke canister. It rolled along in front of the marchers. Two other smoke bombs were tossed by auxiliary policemen.

The marchers fled the billowing smoke in disorder. But no injuries were reported. They reformed after the smoke blew away and again approached the line.

"Just go on home," said the mayor. They did.

Marinite Reports Protests Spreading

NACHEZ, Miss.—At least 50 Negroes will attempt a "freedom march" to the Jefferson County Courthouse in Fayette tomorrow, beginning at 9 a.m., the Council of Federated Organizations announced here today.

Jefferson is the next county north of Adams County, in which Natchez is located.

Plans for the march, to be followed by a rally and an attempt to register to vote, were announced here by Patricia Hansen of Sausalito, 19-year-old COFO worker.

"We have only been doing organizational work in Jefferson County for two months, so we expect trouble," Miss Hansen said.

Deputies Capture Pistol Trophies

Kuchel, Clausen Assist Seashore

Special to the I-J

WASHINGTON—Rep. Donald M. Clausen has joined Senator Thomas H. Kuchel in Joint sponsorship of a bill that will provide authority to spend an additional 30.5 million dollars for purchase of Point Reyes National Seashore.

Clausen introduced a bill in the House today to accomplish this purpose, simultaneously with the official printing of Kuchel's bill in the Senate which provides for the appropriation of no more than 44.5 million dollars for the acquisition of land, waters and improvements.

Clausen's bill is in the form of an amendment to the original Point Reyes Seashore authorizing act which was approved through the efforts of Kuchel and the late Rep. Clem Miller in 1961.

Supervisors Remain Guests Of City Group

Marin County supervisors will attend meetings of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen as guests, but will not become voting members of the voting group.

About 35 council members and two supervisors reached this conclusion last night at a dinner meeting of the council at the Lodge, north of Novato.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said supervisors "wouldn't feel slighted" if they did not have a vote at council sessions.

Supervisors want to get together with mayors and councilmen and exchange viewpoints, but are not attempting to infiltrate the council, Behr said.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said, "We're here to learn, not to upset your rules and regulations or feelings."

The role of the supervisors came up while council members were discussing proposed amenments to the council's by-laws. One proposal was that the county should be included as a part of the organization and the name changed accordingly.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt of San Anselmo said "the future lies in a marriage of the board and councils in a form of an inter-governmental group."

Discussion on the proposal ended after Behr said the supervisors would be content to attend as guests, and no vote was taken.

The council also debated, without decision, whether a by-law giving each city one vote should be changed.

The system resulted in the vote being reported as "cities taking a position and this is not the true intent of the by-laws," said Mrs. Anne L. Ellinwood, Tiburon city councilman.

A majority of those speaking favored keeping the "one city, one vote" rule, although Fairfax Councilman Robert R. Souza said he was being deprived of his right to vote as an individual.

The Council Of Mayors And Councilmen Also:

1. Endorsed the bill by State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, for creation of a San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which would have power to issue or deny dredging or bay fill permits. The vote was 9-0, with representatives of Mill Valley and San Rafael absent, to endorse and to invite State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley to discuss the bill at a meeting in Marin.

3. Postponed appointment of a representatives to the Human Rights Commission from the central cities when there were no nominations, and postponed appointment of a member of the advisory committee of the Marin Transit District because of the absence of San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis.

LBJ Aide Doesn't Fear Inflation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Otto Eckstein, a member of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers, says there is "plenty of room" for further economic expansion in the nation without a threat of inflationary price increases.

Eckstein added, however, in a speech yesterday that the council believed a "very, very very substantial" expansion was needed to provide enough jobs by 1966.

Strawbridge Again Named As Chairman

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night re-elected Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge of Tiburon to a second six-month term as chairman.

Strawbridge was re-elected unanimously by those present at the meeting at The Lodge, north of Novato, representing nine of Marin's 11 cities. Mill Valley and San Rafael were not represented.

Prior to the re-election, members proposed a by-laws amendment to extend the chairman's term from six months to a year. The amendment will be voted at the council's April meeting.

Judge Stricken In Mississippi

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) — U.S. District Judge Sidney Mize, dean of the federal judiciary in Mississippi, was listed today in good condition at a hospital recovering from sudden illness.

Mize, 77, was caught by a court attendant when he collapsed on the bench yesterday and was rushed to an infirmary.

The judge, whose apparently reluctant decisions brought the first college and the first public school desegregation in Mississippi, was hearing a damage case when his face reddened and he swayed in his chair.

Oil Industry Man Selected By LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson yesterday named a 35-year-old oil company executive as assistant secretary of commerce for domestic and international business.

Taylor Park Has Guests From Afar

Campers from every state in the U.S.A., except one, visited Samuel P. Taylor Park in Marin County last year, according to a survey compiled from camp registration slips. The state not represented was Vermont.

The total number of campers was 21,877 and of these out-of-state campers represented 25 per cent.

Among foreigners, 1,066 came from 16 different countries, seven of them European. Canada supplied the bulk, however, with a total of 994. Three tourists came camping from Iceland.

Though native Californians were 'way ahead with 16,000 camping in the park, Washington led the out-of-staters with 75. Next came Oregon with 440; New York, 308; Ohio, 240, Michigan, 236, and Illinois, 228. Bottom of the list was Wyoming, sending four people in one car.

Seven tourists from Alaska looked in and 20 from Hawaii. The average stay for all campers was 1.88 days and each car averaged four persons.

All Cities Urged To Enact Motel Use Tax Ordinances

Corte Madera Town Councilman Charles F. Pendleton last night urged that city councils throughout Marin adopt ordinances imposing a four per cent hotel-motel tax on transient room occupancy.

Speaking at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, Pendleton said the tax would create additional revenue and would be relatively simple to administer.

He said Corte Madera, which adopted the tax, will raise "about $400 a month."

Assemblyman Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, has introduced a bill for a four per cent state tax on transient rooms. Cities should act "to prevent the state from moving in," Pendleton declared.

Three 'Cleared' In Gem Theft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Detectives investigating last week's $510,000 jewel robbery here believe that two men and a woman they've been questioning have no connection with the case.

"We're inclined to think they're not the robbers," said Capt. Ed Jokisch, head of the Wilshire Division Detectives.

But the three were arraigned on charges of burglary yesterday, and the theft of $9,000 in furs that police said were stolen in Los Angeles and found in the trio's possession.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Corte Madera-Larkspur Junior Chamber of Commerce scheduled for tonight has been postponed until 7:30 p.m. next Thursday at Gregory's restaurant, Corte Madera.

Baseball Strikes Out At Park And No One Boos The Decision

A plan to remove baseball facilities from Sun Valley Park was approved by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night and not a voice was raised in protest."

"I've never seen anything like it—after all these years," said acting chairman Charles L. Tacchi.

About 20 Sun Valley residents, some of whom have complained for many seasons of the danger to windows, life and limb from baseballs knocked out of the park, heartily approved a design proposed by Scott Tilden, parks foreman, and Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director.

No one spoke up for baseball. Commission member Irwin Taranto said the need for baseball facilities has pretty well been solved by opening of diamonds at Sun Valley School.

The commission asked for more detailed plans and financing proposals, but approved in principle the design by Tilden and Rodota, which would replace the ball diamond with play areas and put shelters, trees and a picnic area in the park. A playing field about half the size of the present baseball area would remain.

Rodota said the commission's approval would allow his department to remove the baseball backstop and fences immediately and proceed with other parts of the redevelopment which don't cost money. He estimated cost of the project at $1,500.

The commission told Rodota to meet with officials of the American Legion in an effort to lower their proposed increase in rent the city pays the Legion for use of the Recreation Center at 37 Union Street.

The Legion is asking $500 a month. The rent is now $300 a month, half of which is paid by the county.

Taranto said he did not like a tax escalator clause in the lease or the fact that it was for three years instead of one. He said the commission should start looking for a permanent center and Rodota should see whether the Legion wants to sell the present center.

The Parks And Recreation Commission Also:

1. Vetoed a proposal by Terra Linda High School student Stephen Carmichael that a group led by him be allowed to hold a marathon basketball game at Albert Park. The game to last at least 24 hours and the boys would take sleeping bags and play in two shifts. Commissioners feared for their health and safety.

2. Approved a plan to enclose with glass the remaining porch area on the Boyd lodge at Boyd Memorial Park, which houses the Marin County Historical Society. The additional space would be used to display historical items which are now stored upstairs. The fire department has ruled that the second floor cannot be used for display because there is no fire escape.

3. Set June 5 as the date for dedication of Victor Jones Park.

Chairman Arthur W. Fiedler Jr. was absent.

Three Sentenced In Slaying Of U.S. Composer

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique (AP) — Two Portuguese sailors and a Martinique youth have been sentenced by a French court for the fatal attack on American composer Marc Blitzstein. They were convicted of assault and theft.

Blitzstein, 58, was attacked in a Fort de France slum Jan. 22, 1964. He was found dying on the sidewalk. About $400 apparently stolen from the composer was found in the sailors' cabin aboard a fishing vessel.

Armando Fernandes, 27, was sentenced to three years in prison, and Alfredo Rodriguez, 35, to 14 months. Both are from Madeira.

The youth, now 18, was not identified because of his age. He was given a suspended sentence of 14 months and put on probation for three years.

Fresno's Mall Inspected By Civic Leaders

Eventually, these men aroused the enthusiasm of community leaders and the city decided on a plan of total modernization for the central business district. The mall system was only part of the plan, but it has since proved to be its most dramatic single element.

Before, said advertising man B. Franklin Knapp, downtown Fresno "had cancer." Building the mall, he said, was surgery. No one knew whether the patient would live or die, but all agreed it had to be done.

Prodded by some of the more skeptical members of the San Rafael delegation, the Fresno leaders admitted it is still too early to say how much the mall has helped business.

They could, however, offer these encouraging signs:

"When our people go out of town," said Knapp, "they no longer apologize for the fact they are from Fresno."

This new "school spirit" made it possible for a four-man fund-raising team to collect $185,000 to purchase art objects for the mall when there were no official funds available. The committee accomplished this by turning down offers of less than $5,000.

"The thing we are trying to emphasize," said Larry L. Willoughby, executive director of the downtown association, "is that the mall isn't for downtown only—it is for the entire community."

Proof of this, he said, lies in a growing schedule of flower shows, boat shows, art festivals and other events held under the colored lights and piped-music loudspeakers of the mall.

To some of the San Rafael businessmen who expressed concern over the redevelopment agency's powers of condemnation, its acting executive director, Ray C. Fisher, explained that upgrading of store fronts was being accomplished largely on a voluntary basis.

The agency can, however, purchase or condemn a building whose owner is unwilling to bring its interior up to the new, tighter building code. After remodeling or replacing the structure, Fisher said, the agency then gives the previous owner the first chance to buy it back.

The voluntary phase of the plan, he added, has led to $6 million worth of private remodeling since 1961, with $3 million in the last year.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis closed the lunch session by recalling previous, unsuccessful efforts to launch plans for rejuvenating downtown San Rafael. Noting that he is retiring from his post soon, McInnis said his "swan song" would be a campaign to "get people of downtown San Rafael interested in their own future."

The San Rafael visitors then buttoned up their topcoats and strolled two blocks to the mall itself.

Most took a ride or two on the small, covered shuttle buses which wind their way along the six blocks of the main mall, once Fulton Street. They walked back, taking photographs, talking to store owners, and venturing into shorter, intersecting malls.

A few Fresno merchants said they hated the new arrangement. Others said it was wonderful. The San Rafael men and women noticed that business during the rainy afternoon was slow, and commented that there is no restaurant in the mall area.

After several trips up and down the Fulton Mall, most of the group filed into the downtown offices of the redevelopment agency for another question and answer session, then walked back to the train for the return ride.

'THE WATCHTOWER'—Two members of a San Rafael delegation pass in front of tall clock tower by sculptor Jan de Swart, as they toured the Fresno mall yesterday. The tower, visible from nearly any point along the six-block Fulton Mall, was described by one local wag as the "watchtower" due to the size of its clock.

Wells Tested For Lingering Poison Peril

Marin County sanitarians today tested wells at three spots along Nicasio Creek to learn whether the water, contaminated last week by chemicals, can be declared safe to drink.

County Sanitation Officer William L. Desmond said results of the testing probably will be known tomorrow or Saturday.

If the three wells are found safe, Desmond said, his aides will assume the entire creek no longer is contaminated.

The chemicals, which killed 900 young salmon, apparently came from the home of chemist Paul Defibau just before he moved to San Francisco. He denied having dumped them, claiming someone had broken in his home. Defibau said he dumped green dye in to make residents realize the water was contaminated.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Tuesday he would not prosecute Defibau for any violation of fish and game laws.

Desmond said today he plans to ask Bales to press charges on grounds of health violations. He said he was seeking evidence to back up such a charge.

Belvedere Plan Gets Approval

Approval came with condition that the subdivision would come under the recommended slope policy of a minimum 15,000 square foot lot now being considered by the city council. Under the present tougher interim slope policy, the subdivision would require a variance.

Commissioners George Banning and Thomas Stanton were absent.

Marin Grand Jury Committees Report

Marin County Grand Jury committees reported on progress in their studies yesterday in regular meeting, but no significant developments resulted, George R. Scott, foreman, said today.

No criminal indictment was returned.

Brown Defends Late Hours For Larger Cities' Voters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today he will oppose a bill to close the polls an hour earlier in California's most populous counties.

At the same time, he said he will back five bills he said will permit more people to vote and restrict unreasonable voter challenges.

He said he will back bills to:

Permit new California residents—denied the right to vote in their former state because of their, race or color—to vote for president and vice president.

Prohibit challenges at the polls that are made without reasonable cause and to just harrass the voter.

Permit voters to register as late as 29 days before an election instead of the present 53 days.

Eliminate the English language reading and requirement for, people over 50 years of age who have lived in the United States at least 20 years.

Flooding Threat

Mrs. Marlene Heirsche and her son, David, of Martinez remained under intensive care at Marin General Hospital today for injuries suffered Sunday in an auto accident north of Novato.

Mrs. Heirsche, 25, suffering from multiple fractures, remained in poor condition.

Photographers Ask For Equal Access To News

WASHINGTON (AP)— A spokesman for news photographers has asked a House group to help provide access to news in government.

"News photographers must have access to news and news sources just as freely as word reporters in order to assure the availability of complete information, in the public interest," Joseph Costa of New York said yesterday.

Costa said he understood that the public records bill being considered by the committee has nothing to do with photographers.

The bill would require that federal public reords be made available to any person except in specific categories affecting national defense or foreign policy, internal personal rules, and such things as trade secrets and investigatory files.

German School Procedures Differ Much From Marin's, Hollis Says

In West Berlin, where the educator is "the most respected of all professions," segregation of children on the basis of the type of schooling they are to receive begins in kindergarten.

This was reported today by Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools. Hollis and Supt. Milton S. Cohen of Larkspur School District are among 36 U.S. educators on a tour of Europe which will take them into Russia.

In a report to the Independent-Journal, Hollis told of visiting the Pavilion School in West Berlin, a public endowed school built in similar achitectural style to American elementary schools.

"From kindergarten through the sixth grade, education of the children is based on whether they are to receive a practical, technical or preparatory course," Hollis reported.

The "practical" course is for children "who are just going to school," he said. The technical is the most popular. The preparatory is for those who will go on through high school and is "the prestige course."

In the preparatory course, study of English begins in the fourth grade. Pupils who plan to attend college are placed in the "humanistic group" and are taught Latin and Greek also.

In the technical course, French is taught beginning in the first grade, and a second foreign language is begun in second grade.

Only 12 per cent of German high school graduates go on to college, Hollis reported, compared to 35 per cent in the United States.

The educators visited the Free University of Berlin, which was started with a Ford Foundation grant in 1948 by 50 refugee students from East Berlin and now has an enrollment of more than 15,000. However, spring vacation was under way and no class sessions being held.

Wrote the Marin County superintendent:

"We have been told, not only by personnel in the stores, but by hotel and restaurant people, that educators are the most respected of all the professions—above doctors, lawyers, top-level government officials, bankers and those in industry. There seems to be an almost complete reverence for educators. Our group was given every deference possible due to the status to which they felt we belonged."

Two Carpenter Unions Merge

Marin County's two carpenters unions today became one.

Books of Mill Valley's Local 1710 were officially closed and the union's 200 members became part of Local 35 of San Rafael.

Business representative Norman Campbell said the merger will be formally recognized by members in a special "celebration" meeting which probably will be held in May.

THE PAIN OF WAR

The side of war that is seldom seen except in the front lines is exemplified on the contorted, tortured face of this South Vietnamese soldier. Badly wounded by shrapnel from a land mine, he lies on a makeshift stretcher awaiting a helicopter evacuation. Scene is in Tay Ninh Province which was recently overrun by Viet Cong guerrillas.

Gas Chamber Delayed For Death Row Inmate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nathaniel Gaines, 27, convicted of a 1961 Los Angeles robbery and murder, has been given a stay of execution two weeks before he was to have died in San Quentin's gas chamber.

The State Supreme Court granted Gaines permission to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus based on an earlier ruling concerning jury instructions in capital cases.

Gaines' scheduled execution on April 13 would have been the first death sentence to be carried out in California since January, 1962.

The court also ordered the San Quentin warden to show cause why Gaines should not be released from prison. No date was set for the warden's court appearance.

The stay was based on the January 1963 Supreme Court decision in the Joseph Bernard Morse case—ruling that judges should not instruct juries that prisoners facing death sentence could be paroled if given life in prison. This necessitates new penalty trials, the earlier decision said.

New Contract For St. Mary's Cimino

MORAGA, Calif. (UPI) z8 Mike Cimono today had a new contract as head basketball coach and athletic director at St. Mary's College.

The pact was approved yesterday by the five-man board of athletic control which supervises the Gaels' sports program.

Cimono, 34, will be entering his fourth season as head cage coach. His teams have an overall mark of 29-48 in three seasons.

NOT SIMPLY WRONG WAY— WRONG SPAN!

Richmond-San Rafael bridge officers became slightly suspicious that something was amiss yesterday when a car drove up to the toll gate, having crossed the entire length of the bridge eastbound on the westbound deck.

On questioning the driver and her passenger at 3 a.m., California Highway Patrol officers began to wonder, too, when driver Mrs. Sunnie A. Kemp, 44, of Santa Clara, offered a quarter toll and said she was on the Golden Gate Bridge. Her convictions were backed by passenger Donna Mae Kirkhart, 34, of Cupertino.

Mrs. Kemp was charged with drunken driving; Miss Kirkhart with being drunk in and about an automobile.

Medical Group Changes Attitude On Elderly Care

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Medical Association has voted to change its itude concerning medical care for elderly persons.

The association ended its 94th annual session yesterday by proposing changes in federal leg islation it says would make the law more palatable for doctors.

The doctors didn't alter their fundamental opposition to Medicare programs financed through social Security and controlled by the federal government.

But, the CMA proposed federally subsidized health insurance that would offer the aged a choice of coverage, enable the more wealthy to buy additional coverage and be controlled by an independent federal commission.

BIRCHERS BARRED BY NEW LEAGUE

Fledgling Factions Says It Has 'Home' For State's 'Reasonable Republicans'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new political group says it plans a membership drive in the Bay Area to seek out "the reasonable Republican" and provide "a home."

Los Angeles attorney William P. Gray, president of the newly formed California Republican League, said the group will exclude John Birch Society members.

In announcing the Bay Area membership drive at a San Francisco news conference Wednesday, Gray said the California Republican League hopes for 20,000 members within a year.

The league will campaign for Republican candidates and try to elect a Republican governor in 1966, said Caspar Weinberger, San Francisco attorney and former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Weinberger described the actions of the California Republican Assembly at San Diego last weekend as "a retreat into madness."

He charged that the CRA had espoused policies unrepresentative of California's three million Republicans.

The CRA, a volunteer Republican group, voted for repeal of the income tax, investigation of the United Nations and the election of Barry Goldwater "or someone comparable" in the 1968 presidential election.

Commenting upon the group's rebuff of Birch Society members, Gray said that the society "is not interested in that frank give-and-take discussion that is the hallmark of California Republicanism."

T. P. Mastrangelo of 105 Third Street, Sausalito, was named Marin County organizational chairman.

Airport Fund Application Filed Anew

Marin County has filed a new application for $205,218 in federal money for land purchase and construction at the county airport at Novato, Arthur T. Knutson, deputy county director of public works, announced today.

The Federal Aviation Authority last year denied the county's application because the county had budgeted its share of participation over a two-year period.

Now, with $77,323 in reserve and another $97,773 recommended for the fiscal 1966 budget, the FAA should have no objection, Knutson said.

Total cost of the project will be $380,313, Knutson said. The federal agency contributes up to 54 per cent for land purchase and construction of basic facilities.

The project calls for purchase of 64.5 acres, construction of 3,300 feet of taxiway and runway, and a parking apron of 360,000 square feet.

Ex-Marin Man Sues Wonder Drug Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A California insurance man testified in his $350,000 damage suit trial yesterday that the anti-cholesteol drug, MER - 29, caused his eyesight to fail and resulted in other undesirable effects.

Allen D. Toole is suing the makers of MER-29, the William S. Merrell Co. of Cincinnati, and the Richardson-Merrill Co., the parent firm, contending the drug caused cataracts and skin and hair trouble.

Toole, 45 of Alameda, formerly of Mill Valley, also said the side effects forced him to leave his $12,000-a-year job with a San Francisco lumber brokerage firm.

A federal grand jury indicted William S. Merrell Co. and others on Dec. 20, 1963, charging the making of false statements to the government in the MER-29 drug application and about tests to determine its safety.

William S. Merrell Co., Richardson-Merrell, Inc., and three of its former research scientists entered no contest pleas on March 24, 1964.

William S. Merrell Co., on June 4, 1964, was fined $60,000 and the parent corporation $20,000. The three scientists were put on six months probation.

Worshipful master of Fairfax Lodge 556, Free and Accepted Masons, is Frank Larsen.

Six Suits Shoplifted

Three persons, one of whom continuously ate pecan nuts from his pocket, were reported to have shoplifted six men's suits, valued at $282, Monday from the Men's Shop, 82 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley.

Owner Dove/Murphy learned of his loss yesterday and reported it to police at 11:40 a.m.

He said two men, about 30, and one woman entered his shop at about 2 p.m. Monday and remained in the store about 20 minutes. He said he believes the suits were taken from a rack at that time.

Murphy told police one of the men had a pocket full of pecan nuts that he was eating.

All price ranges from

THE BUM

It started with that thing he's leaning on. Our customer, the bum, was affluent. He purchased his Char-Broil Covered Portable Pit with a flick of a check, a condescending smile, and a slightly watering tongue.

He brought it home, this bum. Night after night, day after day, he charbroiled, shish-ka-bobbed, spit-cooked, barbecued and smoke-cooked. The air was laden with savory loot. People came from miles around. His in-laws moved in. He quit working, stayed cooking. It took three grocery stores to furnish his needs. Then his dough ran out. So did everyone else.

All that's left is his Char-Broil, which he and other literate bums claim is the world's greatest contribution to the culinary arts.

Novato Civic Center Plan Is Being Studied

A Novato Civic Center which could house the offices of all local governmental agencies in North Marin will be discussed at a meeting of the agencies within the next two weeks.

The Novato City Council in a special meeting Tuesday night asked City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to arrange for such a meeting.

This was the result of a discussion of major capital improvement program for the city.

Baget reported city income will take care of only present needs next year and any capital improvements must be financed out of special funds. The council then decided to see if other agencies would like to participate in erecting a civic center complex.

The council asked Baget to get a title search on Mahlsted Park, an oval shaped park at the end of Hayden Drive which was dedicated to public use in 1890 by the Home and Farm Co. of California.

The council also asked Baget to arrange to have a council representative at the next Novato Unified School District board meeting to discuss the city-school recreation agreement. The school district has objected to the use of school buses in city recreation programs, according to Baget.

Baget was authorized to ask the citizens who applied for positions on a citizens committee on grading and slopes to form a committee not sponsored by the council.

Woman Passenger Hurt In Collision

Allene Wilson, 52, of Vallejo, suffered a bruised head yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another at Manuel Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda.

California Highway Patrolmen reported that at 8 a.m. a car driven by Matilda Green, 38, of Vallejo, going west on the parkway struck that driven by Barbara C. Caven, 44, of 371 Hyacinth Way, heading north on Las Gallinas. Miss Wilson was a passenger in the Green car.

WIFE NOW OUTRANKS HER MATE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—As of this morning, any wise cracks Marine Corps gunnnery Sgt. William D. Bell makes about his wife's appearance could be considered insubordination.

Sergeant Bell and Staff Sgt. Lillian Hagener, both Marine Corps recruiters here, met, fell in love and wed last year.

Both were sergeants, but as a gunnery sergeant, Bell was one stripe up on his wife.

Then the Marine Corps decided the female Sergeant Bell should be a warrant officer.

As of 10 a.m. today she outranks her husband.

Special Privileges Voted By Students

Student congress at Tamalpais High School yesterday passed a bill by a five to one margin to give seniors special privileges. However, privileges are still subject to approval of the faculty and administration, Vice Principal Raymond J. Bell said today.

Eleven students voted against the bill yesterday. A vote taken last week was ineffective because of lack of a quorum.

you'll want to join with MPO!

(if you're a Marin Property Owner or businessman and care about the future . . .)

We care. And we're sure you do. That's why we've gone ahead and formed MPO. What is it? Well, it's something we've all talked about doing for years, but have never done: it's a non-profit organization to protect the interests of owners of real property and businesses in Marin County. MPO means that for the first time the Marin property-owner and businessman will have an effective voice in determining his community's future growth and development. It'll be effective because it will be a community-wide, unified voice.

MPO means Action. With a full-time Executive Director, and offices at 1010 B Street, every member of MPO will be represented at public meetings which may affect property or businesses. You will be able to call on MPO for information and advice at any time. Here is what MPO will do:

1. Propose and carry out affirmative programs to inform both members and the general public of the rights and responsibilities of the owners of real property;
2. Study zoning and subdivision ordinances adopted in other areas of California and the nation in order to recommend the best possible regulations for real property in Marin County;
3. Study Marin County and city zoning and subdivision ordinances present and proposed, so that such ordinances will be reasonably designed to encourage good and orderly development while protecting all the proper interests of the community;
4. Represent MPO's viewpoint before the Board of Supervisors, city councils and planning commissions and other appropriate public bodies exercising a regulatory jurisdiction upon real estate, where legitimate property interests are in danger of infringement, and,
5. Study the county budget each year to assure a balanced distribution of financial burden between property tax and other revenue sources so that real property bears its fair share, but no more than its fair share, of the tax burden.

MPO will prevent future problems by providing the means by which all property owners and businessmen can work toward common objectives in a unified voice.

MPO will work closely with all interested persons and organizations in the community (governmental agencies, conservation and taxpayer groups) in order to increase the public's awareness of the need for good planning and orderly development.

Membership in MPO is limited to property owners and owners or proprietors of a business located in Marin County. Initiation fee is $100. Annual membership fee, due payable one year after payment of the initation fee, is $20.

130,000 Listed In U.S. As Dangerous To LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee disclosed today that the Secret Service has a file of 130,000 names of persons considered potentially dangerous to the President.

The committee voted to give the agency an extra, over-the-budget $3.9 million to strengthen presidential protection.

Secret Service chief James J. Rowley, outlining additional protective steps taken since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, said names continue to be added to the list of suspicious persons.

He said the names come mostly from the FBI, and the total is expected to reach 200,000 by the end of next year.

Rowley said in testimony released today that about 550 "searches" are made against the index file every day. These are triggered by such routine matters as clearance for tradesmen and callers at the White House and by the necessity to check all persons expected to come in contact with the President on his trips.

Johnson Pays Tax But Must Borrow Money

Johnson made this disclosure at a White House ceremony on *the first day of issue of a "Cru*sade against Cancer" commemorative postage stamp.

The President brought up the subject of his taxes to make this point: If more lives are saved, as his was when he suffered a severe heart attack 10 years ago, there will be more people around to contribute to the economy—and pay their taxes.

In talking about taxes, Johnson joked that the government has a procedure for paying the President with one hand and taking it away with the other.

The presidential salary is $100,000 a year, but an expense allowance boosts that to $150,000. Much of Johnson's taxes are levied, of course, on income received from his private investments, now in trusteeship.

"I recently had to borrow $100,000 to pay my income tax," Johnson said. "They have a procedure for giving it to the President with one hand and taking it away with the other."

Senate Group Passes LBJ's Education Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson scored another major triumph on his aid-to-education bill today when a Senate subcommittee approved a House-passed measure with no changes.

The legislation now goes to the parent Education and Labor Committee for clearance to the Senate floor. It would set up a $1.3 billion school aid program.

APRIL FOOLERY

Student Dave Devine, 17, of Indianapolis, Ind., gives photographer an April Fool's preview while waiting for school bus to take him home yesterday. Woman Hurt In Five-Car Collision

Florence A. Nishimura, 41, of San Anselmo, was hospitalized in far condition today after her automobile was in a five-car collision yesterday.

Mrs. Nishimura, of 33 Richmond Road, was being treated in Marin General Hospital for fractures of both legs and abrasions over much of her body.

Her car was fourth in line of the end-to-end series of collisions at 8:55 a.m. yesterday in southbound lanes of Highway 101, just north of the Waldo Tunnel, California Highway Patrol reported.

A car driven by William L. Vinson, 50, of 35 Corte Madera Avenue, Greenbrae, slowed for traffic ahead. Cars behind slid or were pushed into one another on the rain-slick road, beginning with one driven by Robert J. Gustafson, 33, of 47 Cielo Drive, Greenbrae; then Robert F. Zimmerman, 31 of 30 Circle Drive, Tiburon; Mrs. Nishimura; Albino J. Marcetti, 64, of 311 Richardson Drive, Mill Valley.

Two Condemned Men Leave For New Trials

Inmate Albert Lessard, 34, received at San Quentin in January, 1962, for the knife murder of a man in a San Francisco motel for robbery in June, 1959, has been granted a new trial, according to James W. L. Park, associate warden.

The new trial was granted on the basis of the California Supreme Cours's Morse decision which calls for a new penalty trial in cases where a jury had ben told a convicted killer could be eligible for parole in seven years if he were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Inmate Lawrence Glenn Modesto, 35, has ben granted a complete new trial on the basis of the State Supreme Court's ruling that a suspect must be told of his right to remain silent or have a lawyer present when he is questioned by police.

Modesto was convicted of raping murdering a 13 and a nine-year-old girl in Riverside October, 1961, Park reported.

Planner Quits Commission In Novato

Resignation of Fred Binnewies from the Novato Planning Commission was accepted Tuesday night by the Novato City Council, which failed to name a successor in a short executive session.

Binnewies was appointed to the commission in January to replace Richard Alcorn, who had resigned.

Binnewies moved to Novato when he was named to head the Point Reyes National Seashore. He was active in the organizing of the Novato Civic Foundation, a non-profit organization which is aimed at raising funds for parks in Novato.

He gave "a change in personal affairs" as the reason for resigning.

The council asked anyone interested in serving on the planning commission to notify the city hall.

Herbert G. Hawkins of San Anselmo is the 1965 chairman of the Ross Valley Democratic Club.

Dope In Mail Leads To Mill Valley Arrest

Rodney G. Dame of Greenhill Road was placed in county jail on a charge of possession of marijuana. A "hold" was placed on him for federal authorities for allegedly using the U.S. mail for transporting contraband and causing illcit narcotics to come in from another country.

Dame told police and agents he did not know what was in the package. He said he had picked it up for a friend named Reveria, who is in New York City. The package was addressed to Reveria, 960 Greenhill Road, Mill Valley.

Dame picked up the package at 3:40 p.m. on leaving the post office, he was apprehended by Herbert Lawrence, postal inspector, and Milton W. Wu of the treasury department.

Mailed from Mexico, the package, police said, contained one pair of dark colored men's slacks, a striped tie, a wax paper bag containing the marijuana (some of which was in seed form), a wax paper bag containing what appeared to be dexamyl tablets and biphetamine resin capsules, stimulants.

Bridge Party Helps Scholarship Fund

Eighty-six dollars was added to the Mill Valley Teachers Assn. scholarship fund at last night's contract bridge party, fund chairman Janet Spars said today.

The money goes toward scholarships for Mill Valley students who attend college to become teachers. First prize was won by Helen Bruner and Gladys Bowe, second prize by Dr. and Mrs. Eugene N. Solovieff.

Television Set Stolen From Home

Loss of a television set from home of Marlys J. Cass, 138 Wolfe Grade Road, Kentfield, was reported by sheriff's deputies today.

Weekly Reverts To Former Name

The weekly Marin News will henceforth be called the Sausalito News, George B. Thornhill, publisher, said today. The name was changed from Sausalito News to Marin News Oct. 27, 1958, by former publisher John Harlan.

People in Sausalito have demanded the change and promised to support a local paper, Thornhill said.

Richard F. Gade, who has been in advertising for the past five years in the Bay Area, is the new editor, succeeding Betty Frost of Belvedere. Chester O. Badgley will remain as general manager, and Jim Warner, formerly of the Ross Valley Times, has been named advertising manager. Thornhill also publishes the Tiburon Pelican, Ross Valley Times and Larkspur-Corte Madera Times and the Marin Guide, a shopper, at his Sausalito plant.

San Rafael Council Candidates Draw Sparks On Many Issues

Candidates for two seats on the San Rafael City Council went at each other tooth and nail today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Incumbent councilman Louis H. Barr said the session was a "knifing program." He charged opponents Joseph R. Filippo and Irwin Taranto with taking "pot-shots" based on inadequate knowledge of city affairs.

Taranto charged that San Rafael is being run as if it were a city of 15,000 with a stable population rather than a growing city of 30,000.

He charged that there is no dedication or enthusiasm among the city employees, commissions and other advising citizens (Taranto is a member of the parks and recreation commission). Department heads have been berated for actions not their own and one councilman said last year he would like to see the city's parks liquidated and the land sold "because nobody uses them, anyway," Taranto alleged.

When Barr asked him to identify the councilman, moderator Kitty Oppenheimer intervened to say the program does not deal in personalities.

Taranto added that citizens must appear in large numbers to get a hearing before the council and that many proposals by knowledgeable citizens are ignored. For example, no action was taken on chamber of commerce proposals on traffic and safety, he charged.

Barr and incumbent councilman Harry A. Barbier cited their records of support for such measures as double-deck parking, more fire stations, deleting tideland areas from the master plan and development of parks in the Terra Linda annexation as evidence of their concern for the city.

Both said improvements at the Highway 101 interchange at Third and Irwin Streets and one-way street patterns on Second and Third streets would help alleviate the city's traffic problems.

The tax rate has dropped from $1.15 to 94 cents per $100 assessed valuation since 1957 when he took office, Barr said.

Filippo said, however, that total assessed valuation and the taxes levied have both risen about 56 per cent.

When a listener wanted to know how many council meetings Filippo had attended, Barr interjected that he had not seen Filippo at a single council meeting since the last time he ran for council in 1960. Barr said he should know since he had only missed one in all that time.

Filippo said Barr's charge was "completely untrue." He said he had appeared on behalf of a San Rafael homebuilders association and other clients several times.

"How could you say that, Joe?" asked Barr.

Filippo said residents of the Terra Linda annexation have become known as the "orphans north of the hill" because of lack of concern for them by the city council. A police precinct should be established in the area immediately, he declared. He said he knew of one case where residents had to wait 42 minutes when they called about a juvenile disturbance.

Barbier said a regular police patrol is already in effect in Terra Linda and said he has not heard any complaint about police protection.

Taranto asked how many homes must burn in the Glenwood area before a fire station is established there? Barr countered that a fire station has been budgeted for Glenwood and the area is already served by another fire station nearby as well.

Filippo said the council was sitting on the fence on the issue of tidelands area development. He said he would favor preservation of tidelands off San Pedro Road in Glenwood but that unsightly, smelly tideflats should be developed for commerical or multiple residential use.

Barr said the council had taken a stand by asking the planning commission to delete the tidelands areas from the general plan, to allow further study of the problem. Taranto said this was avoiding the issue.

Filippo said a "gross injustice" had been done to Montecito Shopping Center merchants when Third Street was torn up to prepare for the new off-ramp plan for Highway 101 at Third and Irwin streets. The street work cut customers off from the center during Christmas and "it's still a mess," he charged.

Barr replied that Filippo appeared ignorant of the fact that the work needed to be done to allow the state to go ahead with highway improvements. Filippo said this could have been planned in advance with cooperation of state, county and city.

All candidates were asked about campaign expenses and whether they had hired a public relations man.

Barr said he was spending about $1,500 on his campaign and had hired a public relations man to assist him.

Filippo did not say how much he was paying. He said he had hired a campaign manager.

Taranto and Barbier said they are conducting their own campaign, Barbier at a cost of about $500 and Taranto for about $800.

The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Youth Injured In Cycle Crash

Dennis Christ, 15, of Sausalito was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital after the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car at Bridgeway and Easterby Street at 7:55 a.m. today.

Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christ of 75 Platt Avenue, suffered a concussion and a cut on his left leg.

Police said motorist Richard David Delfino, 18, of Daly City, was making a left turn from the south bound lane on Bridgeway into Gate Three Road and either struck or was struck by Christ's motorcycle while Christ was en route to Tamalpais High School.

Probation Given For Petty Theft

Juan J. and Dora V. Alejos of 900 Scott Avenue, Novato, were given one year's probation each in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on their guilty pleas to petty theft.

Our Servicemen Deserve To Get Pay Increases

The proposed military pay raise bill, now before Congress, is a deserving piece of legislation to bring salaries of our men in uniform closer to the pay of their civilian counterparts.

We picture a soldier, an airman, a sailor or a Marine as a small cog in a big military organization. We tend to take it for granted that the big military machine is adequately providing for its individual members.

We sometimes forget that members in uniform also have wives and families to support, taxes to pay, children to send to school, and rent and food to buy.

They are meeting these obligations with all the dignity they can muster, but it isn't easy.

An airman basic at Hamilton Air Force Base, for example, gets $78 per month. With three or more children, he gets an additional $105 for rent and about $30 for food.

In a high rent area like Marin, that is below subsistence level. It is no wonder that in a third of all the Air Force families, either the wife works or the husband moonlights.

Published reports indicate that thousands of armed forces families are actually on relief, while thousands of others are eligible for relief but too proud to seek it.

The highest paid of any enlisted men would be chief master sergeant with more than 26 years in service. He draws $573 per month, plus $120 for rent if he has three or more children, and about $30 for food.

A new second lieutenant starts at $241 base pay per month, plus rent ranging from $85 to $110 depending on the number of dependents. A major with 10 years service draws $640 base pay, and a full colonel with 20 years service, $968 per month base pay.

A captain at Hamilton Field, engaged in specialized electronics work, would draw about $9,000 per year in pay and allowances. A civilian, engaged in the same type of work alongside the captain, might be getting $13,000 per year.

This discrepancy in pay between the military and their civilian counterparts apparently runs all the way up the line, from recruits to generals.

A new policeman in Washington gets a basic $6,010 per year. This is almost exactly what the Navy chief petty officer with 20 years service gets with all his pay and allowances.

The high rate of turnover in military personnel is due, at least partially, to this discrepancy in pay.

The Air Force spends $17,000 to $25,000 to train each of the 100,000 men it takes in each year. At the end of four years, 71 per cent of them leave the Air Force for better paying civilian jobs. The military services then become a training ground for future civilian technicians, all at staggering expense to taxpayers.

We must induce more men who are trained at federal expense to remain in the armed forces. This would cut down on retraining cost and result in more experienced and effective armed forces.

March Was Boisterous

The name "March" is derived from the old Roman calendar, which named the month after Mars, god of war. It indicates that the month must be a gusty one on the Seven Hills.

To the Anglo-Saxons it was the "Boisterous Month." Gales in Northern Europe.

March in Marin is usually a very pleasant month, broken by a couple of dandy storms complete with heavy winds and rain. More or less unpredictably boisterous.

Lawmakers Have Plan To Save Disability Insurance Fund

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—For many months, observers have pointed out that the state's disability insurance fund was on the way to bankruptcy. No one paid much attention, least of all the administration, which continued paying ultra-liberal disability benefits on the basis of welfare rather than insurance.

Now it has finally happened. The fund has dissipated $179 million of surplus, and $27 million of borrowed money. Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed a measure which would increase employee taxes by 10 per cent, and increase the level of the wage base to collect more taxes annually from the California employee, who is the sole source of the fund.

IN ADDITION, to keep the fund solvent immediately, the governor proposes to penalize California's full-time workers by depriving them of the $12 per day hospital benefit which the fund provides as a part of the weekly disability benefit.

State Sen. George Miller, D-Martinez, in a very lucid manner, says this isn't the way to do business. He first declares the governor is using a trick that is as old as time in politics, that of voicing a threat where it will hurt the most, to impose the will of the administration and its bureaucrats on the people who pay the bills.

Miller has what he considers, and what most people consider, a plan now in A. B. 241, Zenovich, which Miller says will save the day.

AND SAVE IT, he says, without gross discomfort to the pocketbooks of the hospitalized, without increasing the 1 per cent paid by the workers, and with a much smaller increase in the base salary collected on than the governor proposes.

His solution is simple. It consists of reducing benefits for part-time workers, many of whom under the present give-away law, can work only a quarter of the time and yet draw more insurance benefits than can a regular, full-time worker. This results from using the wages in the highest quarter of the year as a basis for payments and duration of benefits.

Full-time workers, without knowing it, have been picking up the tab for many years for the part-timer. As Miller said, "Not all the loafers are part-time workers, but it is in that category we find most of them."

HE POINTED OUT further that the exceedingly high, unearned benefits for part-time workers debases a sound insurance program into a set-up with welfare and relief connotations, which it never was meant to be in the first place.

The Miller amendments in the Zenovich measure are aimed at putting disability insurance back on an insurance basis, rather than turning it into a subsidy to the state's welfare programs.

Independent Party Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Can we take seriously the professed concern of President Johnson about the rights of colored people in our South when U.S. forces use gas and napalm against other innocent colored people in South Viet Nam?

This is ludicrously funny to anyone who doesn't blindly accept everything done by this liberal Democratic president.

I propose that some of the millions of us, who are fed up with the shoddy treatment we get from the two capitalist parties, organize an independent political force to be called the Civil Rights American Party. . .

Since American politics is a monstrous joke let's make the most of it and enjoy the (bitter) laughter many Negroes are still capable of 100 years after being granted "freedom and equality."

Alabama Police Get Personal Applause

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Craemer as usual was concise and to the point regarding his editorial relating to the so-called civil rights demonstrators. It is now apparent . . . that it possibly is not civil rights the leaders are concerned about, but merely a smoke screen to cover their main objective. This objective I submit is to employ every excuse and means to create hate and divide our country so that we can be taken over by their masters the communists. . . .

These people openly defy the law, provoke officers of the law, brutally attack, maim and kill some while these officers are attempting to enforce the laws and maintain peace and order. . . .

The latest charges have been lodged against the police in the State of Alabama. I will say without any reservation I personally think these officers should be applauded for the restraint of force that they could legally have used. Each police officer in this nation represents you and I and has the right to use whatever force that is needed to enforce the laws made by you and I. We must back these officers unto the death if need be against charges made by persons that shout . . . that they will not obey any law they do not like.

Deeds Needed To Aid Negroes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . To your editorial of March 27. Dogma has been one of the failings of most left-wing groups for many years, particularly dogma that had little relationship to the facts of life in the U. S. . . .

You are quite right. The time has come for men and women who oppose injustice and poverty to act. . . .

One of our Marin doctors, working in the South now, has appealed for something as inexpensive as seeds, vegetable seeds for the Negro and poor white to plant to supplement their sparse diet. I hope this gets through to those young people who ask "what can we do?" People are hungry because they cannot afford even a package of seeds. . . .

The promise of America will be achieved with deeds, not words. . . .

Keep Communist Off The Campus

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the article as to whether Mr. Lima be given permission to speak at Tamalpais High School, may I quote from page 19 of Mr. J. Edgar Hoover's book titled "A Study of Communism".

"Communism (Marxism-Leninism) is the revolutionary, materialistic ideology used by its adherents to justify their efforts to seize power by any and all means for the forcible establishment of a world-wide totalitarian social order" . . .

Since the State Education Code provides that persons advocating violent overthrow of the government not be allowed to speak on public school campuses, it follows that permission must be denied Mr. Lima to speak on any public school campus.

If the "First Amendment Club" is truly interested in communism, let them read "Masters of Deceit" or "A Study of Communism," both excellent and timely books by J. Edgar Hoover. They might also read "A Documentary History of Communism" by Robert V. Daniels, a well known authority on Russian and communism . . .

Certainly the students have the right to know about communism, but most certainly Mr. Lima should not be the one to impart that knowledge.

Foes Answered On Unification

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letters from the Highway 101 end of the Reed School District datelined Corte Madera from Erwin Farkas and Mrs. L. S. Peirano, Jr., concerning Tam District unification were sad.

Horace Mann, great American educator, said: "Education, then, beyond all other devices of human origin, is a great equalizer of the conditions of man—the balance wheel of the social machinery . . . it gives each man the independence and the means by which he can resist the selfishness of other men."

I understand this thought. I cherish this thought. I shall vote Yes on unification.

The Farkuses and the Peiranos write about "belly-wash" (?) and carrots and paperclips and unfolding tragedies and so forth.

A Fable For Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A FABLE FOR MARINCELLO:

A fine fat Guernsey strolled up to the fence behind which a herd of Jerseys was grazing.

"'Lo," lowed the Guernsey. "Looks like good pasture on this side. Guess I'll move in over here and raise a family."

"No! No!" mooed the Jerseys. "We don't WANT STRANGERS. First thing you know, we'd have to feed your calves with our milk. Get out!"

"How udderly selfish," ruminated the Guernsey.

She moved in and after a while the Jerseys stopped fussing, the Guernsey raised a fine fat herd, and milk production went up 30 per cent.

High Court Ruling On Lockouts Balances Scale With Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's fair for one is fair for the other—with the accent on what is fair.

This was the essence of a Supreme Court ruling Monday which upheld the right of an employer, when negotiations with a union are deadlocked, to shut down his plant to put economic pressure on a union to come to terms.

THIS BALANCES the scale with a union which has the undisputed right to strike to pressure an employer into meeting its demands.

But if an employer, reading this, gets the idea he can shut down his plant temporarily just to smash a union or to avoid bargaining or before bargaining is deadlocked, this is not what the court said.

That kind of shutdown gets into the field of unfairness against a union. This was not involved in Monday's decision.

IN THIS CASE the American Shipbuilding Co., which operates four shipyards — mainly for repairing ships—had been bargaining collectively with eight unions for years. So there was no question here of anti-union bias by the company, even though the unions had struck the shipyards several times.

Then came a negotiation which reached a dead end. The company feared the union would wait to strike at the busiest season, thus putting the maximum pressure on the company to give in.

So the company decided to shut down its yards, when ship-repairing was not at its peak, and thus reverse things by putting maximum pressure on the union to give in.

THE UNANIMOUS COURT upheld the company's right to do what it did, saying:

The shipyards owner did not violate the labor law "when, after a bargaining impasse had been reached, he temporarily shuts down his plant and lays off his employees for the sole purpose of bringing economic pressure to bear in support of his legitimate bargaining position."

But there are varying conflicting interests in different lockouts. So, undoubtedly, in the future the court will have to pass on more lockouts and in doing so probably narrow down Monday's sweeping opinion.

IN ANOTHER case the court laid down the general rule that an employer has a right to close his plant — not temporarily but permanently — by going out of business, no matter what his reason, anti-union bias or not.

For example: If a plant's employees organize a union but the plant owner is so anti-union he would rather close down than do business with it, he can close down.

This case involved the Darlington Manufacturing Co., a South Carolina corporation operating one mill. A majority of its stock was owned by a New York firm, Deering Milliken and Co., which operates a total of 17 manufacturing plants, including Darlington.

Excise Tax Cuts Appear In Offing

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There is exciting news on the horizon for taxpayers, despite the approaching April 15 deadline for filing income tax returns.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and his congressional leaders have agreed to launch an all-out drive after Easter for a $1.7 billion excise tax cut — effective July 1.

ONLY U.S. involvement in an expanded war in Southeast Asia or a costly conflict in another area will sidetrack these tax-cutting plans.

This unannounced strategy was decided on during a White House legislative meeting at which the president's economic and tax advisers briefed the lawmakers on the "growing need to cut excise taxes immediately to bolster the economy this summer."

According to a private report of the session given the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman, the president agreed to spell out the excise taxes he wants cut in a special message to be sent Congress after the Easter recess.

MILLS TOLD the committeemen that in order to expedite passage and bar major changes, no public hearings would be held on the president's recommendations.

Since private witnesses were heard by the committee last year, Mills said the tax-cut bill would be considered in executive session and only administration officials permitted to appear.

The veteran Arkansas Democrat revealed a major effort will be made to limit the total excise tax cuts to "under $2 billion" — approximately the amount requested by the president.

Holding the lid on the administration's measure is expected to be Representative Mills' biggest problem. Tax bills already introduced by 150 members of Congress would slice excise taxes by more than $4 billion if approved.

COLLECTIONS FROM federal excise taxes this year are estimated at $14,665,000,000 by the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. Its report lists the breakdown of expected 1965 revenue from these taxes as follows:

Manufacturers' excise taxes, $6,373,000,000; liquor, $3,731,000,000; tobacco, $2,148,000,000; miscellaneous, $1,566,000,000; retailers', $667,000,000; stamp taxes, $180,000.

While the nature of the president's proposed cuts are one of the administration's best-kept secrets, informed legislators report reductions will be recommended in excises on cosmetics, toiletries, leather goods, ladies' handbags, wallets, luggage, jewelry, furs, fur-trimmed coats and sporting goods.

Still undecided is whether the president will propose a cut in the 10 per cent excise on automobiles. This tax produces approximately $1.8 billion annually in revenue — or an average $225 per car, paid by the automobile manufacturers.

ON THE OTHER hand, Congress is likely to vote more tax increases than reductions this year. Three separate tax packages are certain to get the legislators' attention at this session. Offsetting an excise tax reduction will be two proposals hiking taxes. These are the president's medicare bill and his proposal to boost the size of pensions for old folks under Social Security. Both measures include increases in the payroll tax to finance the new benefits.

Treasury officials are delaying the minting of new silver dollars until after they make their recommendations to Congress on whether the content of silver in coins should be eliminated or reduced. This decision is expected by mid-April. Last year Congress directed the Treasury to mint 45 million silver dollars, but fixed no date for the coinage to start.

The vending machine industry uses $83 million worth of coins a day, according to a Treasury survey. Government mints are now producing coins at the rate of eight billion a year.

Who Is Running The Show Now That Town Has No Manager?

TODAY IS THE first day in Corte Madera without a town manager, as Arthur H. Brandow Jr. takes up his new duties as city administrator of Belmont.

And the question arises: Who is running the show?

The town council, at the last regular meeting, took no action on the appointment of a temporary manager, while recruitment continues for a new man.

UNDER THE LAW, when there is no manager, the leadership of the town administration falls on the shoulders of the mayor.

That's the state law, but the town's ordinance says something else, and the contradiction could lead to trouble if a new manager is not hired quickly.

The ordinance states that no member of the town council may be appointed manager until he has been off the council for at least one year.

IT ALSO SAYS the manager has powers which no single councilman holds, such as hiring and firing personnel, rearranging the departmental organizations and ordering supplies, up to $500 at a clip.

The ordinance also requires that the manager be bonded, since he makes purchases.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst is covered by a liability insurance for council actions, as is any elected official in Marin County, but he is not bonded for the handling of money in the way the manager is.

THE TOWN TREASURER, Col. John R. Vance, is also bonded, since he signs all checks, but his responsibility only extends to making sure there is enough money in the bank and that the expenditure is legal, technically, not whether the goods bought or the salary paid is done under proper authority.

Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis, when asked about the ordinance, said he had not been queried previously on the matter by any councilman. Councilman Charles F. Pendleton had asked earlier about the mechanics of the appointment of Colthurst to the post, however.

Davis said, informally, that if he were asked to rule on the question of whether Colthurst, as acting manager, could hire or fire anyone, he would probably rule the mayor had no authority. The whole council would have to act.

COLTHURST, WHEN contacted, said he was not too worried, because no hirings or firings are expected. He said the only personnel action expected, other than selection of the new manager, would be step pay increases in July.

By then, he said, the new manager should be on the job. The town has advertised for a new man, and so far has received more than 75 applications. Recruitment closes April 30.

But, according to Brandow, there will be a problem of winnowing the applicants, for there seems to be quite a bit of chaff. One applicant could not even spell "manager" correctly.

Knights Of The Klan Up To Old Tricks As Columnist's Poem Shows

(The following verses of mine appeared originally in a New York paper some four decades ago, when the KKK was terrorizing the South and the Midwest. And now, alas, the headlines make them timely again. The "10 bucks" in the last stanza was then the prevailing price for a Klan Knightshirt.)

BOLDLY WE GO to the battle, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan,
But never a sabre we rattle —it isn't part of our plan:
The noise might awaken our foeman, and give him a chance in the fight;
And we — we give quarter to no man, unless he's a Protestant white.

Unless he's a Protestant white.
And his morals are strictly upright,
We darn him and dern him
And, sometimes, we burn him —
Unless he's a Protestant white.

And a hundred Ku Klux hemen will lynch him till he's dead —
For this is the land of the freemen, and we want no Pope at the head.

We want no Pope at the head:
A Catholic priest
Is the thing we love least—
We want no Pope at the head.

DOING THE WORK that is God's, we ask no favors of fate
But a hundred to one for our odds, and a Jew that we can bait.
And if it's not to their likes, why, they know where they can go.

They know where they can go —
Each Abie and Ikie and Moe:
The Garden of Jueden —
Or Russia — or Sweden —
They know where they can go!

AND WHEN there's no game bigger, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan
Delight in lynching a Nigger (the coons are under our ban).
For when life gets dull and duller, we never give up hope:

We dangle him from a rope:
We hold him as good as a Pope;
To us he's no worse'n
Some synagogue person —
We dangle him from a rope.

SCORNING THE coat of mail, we don but our good Knight shirt;
Seeking no Holy Grail, but an alien or two to hurt.
Grails for those who want them! Ours be the worthier task

To frighten with hood and with mask —
What more could a gentleman ask?
Unless he's a Nordic,
Each Tom, Harry or Dick
We frighten with hood and with mask.

A STALWART band of paraders, upholding the law and its might,
We are the fiercest crusaders that ever rode through the night.
Woe to the wicked and shameless! They shall die but never scan
A face of the gallant (and nameless) Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

They're strictly A-mer-i-can! (Hooray!)
Ten bucks makes a gent
A hundred per cent —

Our biggest competitor has over 2000 employees for every one of ours

But don't feel sorry for us — David proved to Goliath that size isn't everything. In fact, when you see how we measure up in the things that really matter, you are right not to be concerned about our size.

In safety, for example, no Homestead saver has ever lost a penny, and we've been in business for over three quarters of a century. Goliath can't say this.

And rate of return; your savings bring you $48.50* a year for every thousand you're saving at Homestead. Goliath can't say this.

Any of our employees will tell you that your savings are insured to $10,000 by a U.S. government agency and every Homestead loan is secured. Goliath's thousands of employees can't say this.

Radiotelephone System Firms Opens In County

Installation of the first radiotelephone utility system in Marin County was announced today by Angelo J. Turrini, secretary-treasurer of Redwood Telephone Corp.

The two-way service provides voice communication between subscribers' vehicles operating in the San Francisco Bay Area and the company's message center at 914 Irwin Street, San Rafael. Messages will be relayed elsewhere in Marin by regular telephone, Turrini said. Eventually it is intended to establish direct voice communication among all subscribers.

Turrini said the installation operates at a rated output of 500 watts and is one of the most powerful radiotelephone hookups in Northern California. He said a typical user will pay a one-time installation charge of $35 for the equipment in his vehicle and a monthly service charge of $43.50.

Julian W. Mack II is president of the Marin Committe for Fair Play.

Firm Planning To Raise Funds

MILWAUKEE — Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. has announced plans to raise $75 million in new funds.

The new capital would result from the sale of $30 million of a new issue of convertible preferred stock and $45 million from the sale of unsecured long term debt.

Stockholders are being asked to authorize 500,000 shares of a new class of $100 par preferred stock at the annual meeting of the company to be held May 5 at the Allis-Chalmers West Allis headquarters. Proxy statements have been mailed to stockholders outlining the company's plans.

New Wood Pulp Process Outlined

TACOMA—The invention of a new process in the bleaching of wood pulps has been reported by Weyerhaeuser Co.

Merrill Robison, vice president-manager of the firm's pulp and paperboard division, said the process makes it possible to reduce chemical costs and to increase the strength of pulps.

The process involves adding sulfamic acid in the hypochlorite stage of the bleaching process. In most sulphite and kraft bleaching processes, this is the third stage of bleaching.

Macy's Building Aides Are Named

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Smoked Meat Outlets To Open; Graham Lumber To Build More

If you have bought Hickory Farms of Ohio's smoked meat at this firm's Marin Art and Garden Fair exhibit during the last three or four years, you'll no longer need to wait from summer to summer to replenish your supply.

Two stores franchised by Hickory Farms will soon be opened in the county. The first will be in the new Strawberry Town and Country Village in Southern Marin and may get under way by franchise holder Richard Goebel this month. The other, franchised by Paul T. Philippe through the Draper Companies, will be delayed a little longer.

Another Town and Country Village business which should open sometime in July is a branch operation of Frank's Shoes and Repair, now located in the Bon Air Shopping Center, Greenbrae. Shoes carried at this store by Frank Lucchesi will be Italian imported, exclusively (he has both American and Italian in Greenbrae) and there will be a shoe repair department.

THERE WILL BE more building activity on Jacoby Street, San Rafael in about three weeks, when Graham Lumber Co. embarks on another 14,000-square foot building by Soule Steel Co.

This will be next to Creative Merchandisers, Inc. who will get a 2,000-square foot addition out of it. Warehouse space for Graham will occupy 4,000 square feet, and the balance will be divided into four business rental units for lease, and finished to suit individual tenants.

DIRECTORS of the Marin County Real Estate Board have taken an unanimous stand against a proposed "pre - sale plumbing inspection plan" being offered by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors Assn. Board president Hugh G. Marchant said inspections do not cover concealed or inaccessible conditions that cannot be determined without the use of tools, and offer no guarantee on the operating ability of the plumbing equipment.

JACK H. FELLER, San Rafael management consultant specializing in setting up financing, billing and accounting systems for small businesses, will speak before a conference on small business planning at the University of California in Berkeley April 26 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. He will discuss methods for ascertaining the financial condition of a business and putting money to efficient use. The session is part of a two-evening extension program at 110 Wheeler Hall on the Berkeley campus.

KENNETH E. SIMON of San Rafael, with E. F. Hutton Co., Inc., San Francisco, attended the Institute of Investment Banking last week at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia as part of a three-year executive development program for investment bankers. It is sponsored by the Investment Bankers Assn. of America in cooperation with the university's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce.

DON BENNETT, four years on Radio KTIM, San Rafael as "The Wanderer," broadcast his last program from Marin last Monday. He and his wife Marjorie have bought a house in Benicia where she is an executive with Lutz Tire Co., recently moved from San Francisco. He will appear 9 to 10 Saturday morning on the Vallejo station KNBA as "The Voice of Benicia," sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and merchants. Son Ronald Hag, with the Sausalito office of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., takes over the Bennett's Corte Madera home.

FRANK DE FOE of San Rafael has been honored as "Salesman of the Month" by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. De Foe works out of the San Francisco office and is now assigned to a sales campaign in Oakland. He has been with PT&T only since last May. He previously had the camera and appliance department at MAC Department Store, San Rafael.

MARIN PREP ALL-STAR GRID GAME APPROVED

The first Marin County all-star prep football game has been officially approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., it was announced today by Bob Troppmann, managing director for the game.

The game, sponsored by the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, will be held Aug. 26, under the lights in College of Marin stadium, Kentfield. All players will be boys who were graduated two months earlier.

The North team will be made up of gridders from Novato, Terra Linda, San Rafael highs and San Rafael Military Academy. -The South team will be boys graduated from Drake, Tamalpais, Rerwood and Marin Catholic.

Red Hot Prep Baseball Race Forecast

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Indications point toward a red-hot Marin Athletic League baseball race, but the favorite's role has to go to Terra Linda, defending champ from last year.

The prep teams in the league start serious action tomorrow in the opening day of the double round-robin league slate. Redwood will take on Terra Linda at San Rafael's Albert Field, San Rafael will be at Novato, and Tamalpais will be at Drake, all games starting at 4 p.m.

Terra Linda has almost the same team back that won the MCAL crown last year. Two outfielders and one pitcher have been graduated, leaving six first stringers. But that one pitcher was a good one, Bill Lee, an all-leaguer.

Trojans coach Don Lucas feels he has four strong pitchers—all juniors. Ed Beckley, who had a fine 7-win, 1-loss record last year, will be joined by Mike Ainslie, Dale White and Terry Johnson. White is the lone southpaw.

Lucas also feels his outfield will provide a lot of batting punch. He has juniors Fred Daniele and John Clifford and senior Ken Pike scheduled for outfield duty. Also receiving high mention was the doubleplay combination of short-stop John Forry and second baseman Bill Hall.

Although an experienced team, the Trojans bulge with juniors. Only two of the scheduled starters are seniors. The others are juniors, with the exception of soph first baseman Paul Lee.

More than one coach said it would be a five-team race between Terra Linda, Drake, Redwood, Marin Catholic and Novato.

For Redwood, the brunt of the pitching duties will fall on the shoulders of Scott Murphy, and he has the size and experience to hold up. The right-hander has beefed up to 190 pounds on his 6-1 frame since last year, an increase of about 25 pounds. And in pitching, with size comes speed. He's a senior with three years experience.

Says Redwood coach Al Endriss, "Murphy is the best pitcher in the league, in my opinion." Backing up Murphy on the Giants hurling staff are righthanders Jim Garrett, Kevin Wilson, Ed Hutchison and Russ Smith and lefthander Jack Baglietto.

Redwood's infield should get its share of hits. Second baseman Pat Puccinelli, the lead off man, will be carrying a .320 average into league action. A senior who played shortstop last year, Pat already has had scouts watching. Shortstop Don Roby has been Redwood's leading hitter through the practice slate, rapping the ball at a .368 clip. Third baseman Steve Mattos should provide added power.

That Redwood-Terra Linda game tomorrow should be a dilly.

Trade Winds Blow: Giants Eye Mets' Southpaw

JIM MURRAY

Goodrich Revives Merriwell 'Image'

There was a time in this country when it was possible to believe in Frank Merriwell. You know the bit. The ruffian—who smoked and swore and tied tin cans to dogs' tails—came to bat and Frank said quietly to his trusted battery-mate, Bart Hodges, "Never fear, I will get this bully with the old double-outshoot." Two million kids believed every word of it.

But we are in the age of "nonhero" now. Life is an adult western. The red badge of courage is a pale yellow. We're afraid of everybody. The bully rules the street, the state, the nation, the world. And, especially, the campus. Frank Merriwell is cowering in a cave. He can't throw the old double-outshoot because his hands are shaking too much. Better he should grow a beard and take up letting dirty signs.

Knighthood is not in flower, it's in weeds. St. George went thataway.

I bring this up because I thought for a few wild minutes recently that Frank Merriwell was making a last stand. Princeton had this basketball player who was right out of Burt L. Standish. Bill Bradley was not only the kind of boy who would tip his hat to a lady, he was a Rhodes scholar, which is about as common in basketball as a midget. He touched up the books instead of the bookmakers.

YOU ALL know what happened. The University of Michigan took the floor with a front line that looked like the Green Bay Packers. By the time they got through muscling Princeton around the floor, the team was wearing its school colors under its eyes. They couldn't get a rebound by airplane. The only thing they were a match for Michigan in was translating Latin.

Frank Merriwell seemed to have turned in his "Y." Don Quixote was dropping in the wind. The ivy was once again poisoned. The sword was mightier than the pen. I made a mental note to give Merriwell a fitting epitaph. Like high-buttoned shoes, guys who got on their knees to propose and barber shop quartets, he was just a big laugh.

THAT'S WHEN Gail Goodrich came on camera. Gail Goodrich is a kid who would make even Merriwell look like a big bully. He's got little inquisitive eyes, hair that just will not stay combed. He looks like the kind of kid they play tricks on in the frat house, as if he should be wearing a beany with a propeller on it or leading the cheers, the kid in the ad who is the 97-pound weakling the big bully is always kicking sand on.

When he got through with that Michigan forward wall you felt sorry for THEM. The guy who played him is not sure to this day what he looks like. Gail Goodrich went around, through, under and over those guys so fast they thought he was a rumor. If it weren't for the 42 points on the scoreboard they wouldn't even had known he was there.

IT WAS enough to make you believe in the old double-outshoot again, to establish St. George 8-to-5 over the dragon after all. It never occurred to Gail Goodrich he was too little to play basketball. He's had a basketball in his hands ever since he had a rattle. His first layup broke a lamp in his house out in the San Fernando Valley. When he was big enough to walk, he used to toddle out after the bigger boys and challenge them to play one-on-one with him.

His father was an All-Coast basketball player at USC in the 30s. But he was a big fellow—weighed clear up in the 190s. About the time most kids are getting their first Erector sets, Gail was getting his first basketball court. He learned how to dribble a basketball the minute he stopped dribbling pablum. His hands got so big he could palm a pineapple. They kept the rest of him in shape just carrying them around.

HIS REACH was only average but he could shoot or dribble with either hand and his jump shot got so much height between his sneakers and the floor he could put the ball in with his teeth if necessary.

Coach John Wooden's style of attack and defense was perfect for Goodrich. And vice versa. Wooden passes the ball around like a pitchman's pea under the shell on the attack, and when the other team has the ball he seals them off so effectively that by the time they get the ball to mid-court they are too exhausted to shoot. They make more errors than a secretary at the office Christmas party. UCLA's teams are usually so well-conditioned they can run backwards longer than most teams can run forward.

GOODRICH'S virtuosity, which was reaffirmed in the recent college East-West All-Star Game, presents a nice new problem to the Los Angeles Lakers. They can have Gail Goodrich as a "territorial," i.e., a claim they have by divine right of geography. They have been longing for years for someone at center—or the forecourt—they would have to raise the scoreboard for just to field.

THEY MADE Walt Hazzard a territorial last year. Which was, and is, not a bad idea. But they don't want to get in a rut.

On the other hand, they don't want to shoot Frank Merriwell either. Just suppose all that derring-do is possible and Burt L. Standish wasn't making it all up after all? Zounds, sirrahs! 'Tis no time for a faint heart! Fight fiercely! Brute strength never concurs in the end! Remember Cazzie Russell. Forget Bill.

NICKLAUS IS HOPING TO REPEAT

RACING

NEW YORK — Affectionately, $3.50, went to the front at the start and led all the way in winning the $27,500 Correction Handicap at Aqueduct.

Jose Says Clay Can Be Had

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jose Torres calls himself a great fighter, and the memory of what he did to Willie Pastrano in nine rounds to win the light heavyweight crown makes it believable.

And now Torres says he wants to fight for the heavyweight crown of Cassius Clay, whose shouted "I am the greatest!" has become his trademark. When Torres says, "I am a great fighter," it is a quiet, almost shy remark, intended simply to state a fact.

"Clay I can knock out because he can be hit on the jaw," Torres told a press conference yesterday. "He made some mistakes against Sonny Liston that a fast puncher could have taken advantage of."

Torres is a fast puncher. For nine rounds Tuesday night the Puerto Rican stalked wily Willie, throwing lefts and rights from his peek-a-boo style.

VISCIOUS HOOK

In the sixth Torres connected with a vicious left hook to Pastrano's middle and the 29-year-old dancer went to the canvas for the first time in his 15-year career in the ring as a nine-count was tolled. The title changed hands when referee John Lobianco refused to allow Pastrano to answer the bell for the 10th. Torres won on a technical knockout in the ninth.

Pastrano said afterward that he had never taken such a beating and that he felt the referee was right in stopping the fight. He called his showing "miserable."

Torres named as possible future opponents former stablemate Floyd Patterson and middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

McELHENNY FETED AT RETIREMENT BANQUET

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 300 persons paid tribute last night to Hugh McElhenny, who has retired after 13 seasons as a pro football player.

Among those present at the dinner honoring the former ace halfback were Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League, U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and General Manager Lou Spadia of the San Francisco 49ers.

McElhenny, who is now an executive with a detective agency, finished his career with the Detroit Lions after being released by the New York Giants before the 1964 season started.

An All-America at the University of Washington in 1951, McElhenny was the No. 1 draft choice of the 49ers with whom he played for nine years. He scored a touchdown on his first play as a pro.

Ferraris Quit In A Huff

MODENA, Italy (AP) — Italy's famed Ferrari auto racing firm announced last night its withdrawal from all races counting toward the world manufacturers' championship.

Ferrari said it was protesting the International Sports Car Commission's refusal to approve Ferrari's 275-Le Mans model for racing.

The withdrawal applied to such races as the Le Mans 24-hour contest, but not to formula one Grand Prix races counting toward the world drivers' championship.

The manufacturers' championship races from which Ferrari withdrew are for two-seat sports cars and prototypes. Besides the Le Mans race, these include the 1,000-kilometer Nurburgring race in Germany and the 12-hour endurance race of Sebring, Fla.

Ferrari has had trouble getting the 275-Le Mans grand tourism car, a small sedan, ratified. Last year the Sports Commission turned it down because too few models had been produced.

In last night's announcement, Ferrari said 147 of the 275-Le Mans car had been produced, but that the commission had again declined to ratify it, this time on grounds there was "a difference between the minimum weight of the car indicated on the technical form and the real weight."

Lefty Is Badly Needed; Jackson?

COMBINED AP & UPI

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The San Francisco Giants today were reported searching for a left-handed pitcher to join Bob Hendley on the staff.

Most common name heard hereabouts was that of Al Jackson of the New York Mets and the Giants reportedly were dangling such names as Harvey Kuenn, Chuck Hiller, Jimmy Duffalo, and Cap Peterson in front of the interested New York team.

Unless the Giants come up with an adequate left-hander, the 25-year-old Hendley is likely to pitch both as a starter and reliever during a busy 1965 season.

Orlando Cepeda, slowly rounding into shape for the coming baseball season, can't help but improve his Cactus League debuts at plate and field.

Because his right knee hasn't healed quickly enough after an off-season operation, the San Francisco Giant first baseman has been in the dugout most of the exhibition season.

In his second appearance yesterday, he hit into a double play as a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning against the Boston Red Sox. But this didn't stop the Giants from taking their 12th exhibition win over the American Leaguers in 13 games, this time 6-3 at Scottsboro, Ariz.

Cepeda then told manager Herman Franks that he was ready to man the bag for the first time this year. And in the ninth inning, Cepeda dropped a routine throw from second baseman Hal Lanier.

Cepeda hopes to get in a substantial amount of playing time this weekend against the Los Angeles Angels in a two-game series at Palm Springs, Calif.

Franks decided not to stick around Phoenix for April Fool and headed for his Salt Lake City home to take care of some of his supermarket business. The Giants took on the Chicago Cubs without their new leader.

Catcher Ed Bailey cracked his first homer of the spring yesterday. If chopped in half, it would have made two. The left-handed blast came in the second off loser Jerry Stephenson and went 430 feet over the deepest section of the center field fence. Jim Ray Hart was on base.

Gaylord Perry hurled seven innings and allowed three hits, one a bases-empty homer in the seventh by Tony Conigliaro, who went five-for-nine in two days of Giants pitching.

Perry was touched for an unearned run in the same inning when Matty Alou dropped an easy two-out fly in right allowing Frank Malzone to score all the way from first.

The Giants had struck for four runs in the fifth. With southpaw Ed Connelly on the mound, the Giants loaded the bases on a wild pitch third strike, a hit batsman, a sacrifice bunt and an intentional pass to Willie Mays.

Jesus Alou then stroked a single scoring two runs. Mays drew a bad throw to the plate from center fielder Congliaro and also scored, Alou scooting to second.

Bill Hands pitched the eighth and Ron Herbel the ninth for the Giants, who got eight hits to the Red Sox' six. Hands gave up the final Boston run.

SKI SCENE

By ROSEMARY SEAL

Skiing Should Be Good Through April; Busy Weekend Is On Tap

The real ski nuts aren't fooled by all these flowering trees and spring blossoms in Marin; they know that it's still winter in the mountains, and that the skiing is great! Last week's storm put two feet of new snow on top of the six to ten foot pack, and skiing should be good into May.

However, the parking has not improved since the last time, on Highway 40. Even those who thought they were in legitimate parking places found those expensive notes from the Highway Patrol on their windshields Sunday morning. Seems like the patrolman could, at least, wait until 10 a.m., when most skiers are moved out, and then tag just the laggards who block the work of the snowplows during the day.

REDWOOD HIGH School Ski Club members have it made, though. They travel in a bus, with no parking problems. This weekend they will invade Squaw Valley, with 36 students and two chaperones taking over some of the dormitories at Olympic Village. We can recognize the leaders by their big-brimmed Australian outback hats, turned up on one side. Also, there's the ski club patch, a shield with a black skier silhoutted on a white ground and a red border with Redwood spelled out. Kate Royer of Belvedere, club secretary, is in charge of signups, with the bus leaving at 5 p.m. tomorrow from Redwood High School and returning Sunday night.

ALSO BEATING the traffic and the lift lines are Mrs. Harvey Rogers and Mrs. Jack Himmelwright of Belvedere, who play hookey midweek to ski Sugar Bowl without the crowds.

For those who like to ski in Texas Bogners, entries are now being accepting for the Levi's Ski Rodeo. It will be on Monday, April 12, during Easter vacation, at Donner Ski Ranch. A junior giant slalom, it will be staged by DSR Ski Club and is approved by Far West Ski Association. Start in 10:30 a.m.

MARIN SKI CLUB'S race for members will be Saturday at 11 a.m. at Sugar Bowl. The course will be laid out by Barry Evergettis, race chairman, down Crow's Nest and into the meadow. This will be a giant slalom. There's talk that the annual beer race will also be scheduled later that day. This is a hilarious affair that involves partners tied together and such hazards as fences and limbo poles.

Scotty Watterworth and Claire Gannon of Marin Ski Club will be racing in the Trader Vic Tiki Trophy giant slalom on Sunday at Sugar Bowl.

BILL MANN dropped in at the new Ashland ski area in Oregon recently, and reports that the snow is deep, lift lines short, atmosphere friendly. Facilities are operating daily until May 1, weekends and holidays until June 1.

Our spies tell us that Karen Atterbury of Belvedere, who has been a student at the University of Colorado, went to Aspen to ski during the early semester break, and just stayed. She's working there for the Spring term, and skiing up a storm.

Canucks, Seattle Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The teams that finished second and third in Western Hockey League play had the skaters' edge today in the race for the Lester Patrick Cup.

Second-place Seattle downed Victoria 4-2 and Vancouver beat the league - champion Portland Buckaroos 6-3 in the first games of the best-of-seven semifinal playoff series.

There were disappointments at both American rinks. For Portland fans, it was the first time they had seen goalie Dave Kelly lose on his home ice this season. At Seattle, only 3,102 fans showed up — the smallest turnout of the year.

Golden Guyle Fielder, who topped the league in both assists and total points, was instrumental in the Seattle victory. He set up the first three Totem goals. The first two came in a 45-minute span early in the first period when Mo Mantha and Bob Barlow each banged home the puck.

The Canadians, who had trouble getting untracked, kept within striking range as Gordy Redahl and Milan Marcetta scored, but goalie Al Millar was pulled in the waning minutes and Seattle's Gerry Leonard hit the empty net.

Veteran Phil Maloney was Vancouver's playmaker, getting assists on three of the Canuck goals. He set up Ron Matthews in the first period for a 1-1 tie, then passed to Jim Baird midway in the second to give the Canucks a 3-1 margin that was never threatened.

The game saw the first penalty shot called against Portland in four years. Bruce Carmichale was awarded the shot, but Kelly blocked it.

Portland travels to Vancouver for the next game in the series tomorrow night while Seattle will again host Victoria on the same evening.

AROUND THE EXHIBITION CIRCUIT

Phils' Happy Holdout Awakens

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Riche Allen was a happy holdout.

Not happy that the Philadelphia Phillies wouldn't give him what he thought he was worth but happy because he was sitting at home rather than running at spring training camp.

The National League's Rookie of the Year, who finally signed a compromise contract March 15, made the Phillies happy yesterday, enjoying his best game of the exhibition baseball season in his team's 10-1 trouncing of Cincinnati. He rapped three hits, including his first homer, and drove in three runs.

Allen went into the game with a .130 batting average and four runs batted in, but that meager showing didn't have the 23-year-old third baseman upset.

"I'm glad now that I missed all that time here," he explained. "I feel so much stronger than I did last spring. I didn't say anything about it at the time, but I was weak when the season began last year.

"I don't know whether it was physical or mental tiredness, or both, but I had come down here about Feb. 15 to run around. When the season first started, I was beat. I don't worry about not getting hits. All I want to do is make sure I've got my swing."

At this time last year, Allen was hitting .300, had six homers and 17 RBI. During the regular season he batted .318, slugged 29 homers and knocked in 91 runs.

In the Phillies' victory against the Reds, Allen was joined in the heavy hitting by Tony Taylor and Tony Gonzalez, who also drove in three runs apiece. All 10 runs came off Jim Maloney.

A number of other pitchers fared somewhat better than Maloney.

Ken Johnson hurled five perfect innings, then allowed one run and three hits in the sixth inning in Houston's 4-1 triumph that halted the Chicago White Sox' five-game winning streak.

Washington drubbed the New York Mets 6-0 with the Senators' Phil Ortega permitting just one hit — Ed Kranepool's leadoff single in the fourth — in seven innings. Ken McMullen drove a two-run homer in the sixth.

Jim Kaat scattered six hits in eight innings, pitched Minnesota to a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore. Harmon Killebrew hit his first spring homer, a three-run blast, in Minnesota's third inning.

Detroit downed Milwaukee 4-2 as Denny McLain held the Braves to three hits, including Felipe Alou's two-run homer, in seven innings.

The New York Yankees snapped their four-game losing streak, downing Kansas City 6-3 despite five errors, two by left fielder Mickey Mantle. Tony Kubek delivered the decisive blow, a three-run homer in the sixty.

Tommy Davis raised his average to .424 and Maury Wills to .488 with two hits each in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 7-3 decision over St. Louis. Ken Boyer knocked across two Cardinal runs with a single and a triple.

Donna DeVarona To Quit Amateur Ranks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Olympic gold medal-winning swimmer Donna De Varona, 17, was expected to announce today her decision to leave the amateur ranks for a professional career.

Miss De Varona, of Santa Clara, Calif., winner of two gold medals for the United States in 1964, was due here en route to New York for a television appearance.

On the TV show she will discuss a position with Sports Illustrated magazine and arrangements for bathing suit endorsements.

Donna started breaking records in swimming when she was 13, and in 1960 was the baby of the U.S. Olympic team, winning the 400-meter individual medley and anchoring the 400-meter medley relay team.

few errors. "And our hitting is better than last year," he adds. The Pirates of 1964 finished the MCAL slate with a 7-5 mark, tied for second place, so they should be right up there this year.

Most of Drake's hitting is expected to come from outfielder Tom Hickerson, first baseman Will Curley and catcher Al Simontacchi. Back up catcher Don Alvarado is only a freshman but he's the second leading hitter on the team. It's the first time Fitzhenry has carried a freshman on the varsity team, so you know Don's a bright prospect.

Marin Catholic had a very successful practice game campaign this year, winning seven out of nine games. The Wildcats have returning righthander Ben Burch as the No. 1 pitcher, with Gerry Handlos, another righthander, and southpaw Brian King to back him up.

Heading the batting order for Marin will be a pair of returning all-leaguers, shortstop Bob Lombardi and first baseman George King, and coach Gary Hughes is counting on a lot of stick work by those boys.

Hughes feels he has lack of experience, but has a good crop of sophomores and juniors up from junior varsity.

Novato coach Harry Moore has moved up from the junior varsity ranks and has brought a lot of good ball players with him. He agrees with other coaches, "It's going to be the toughest in years," he says of the upcoming campaign.

Top pitchers for Novato will be lefthander Chuck Ashworth, a sophomore import from Petaluma, and John Dolinsek, another southpaw. When Dolinsek isn't on the mound, he'll be at first base. Although only a junior, Dolinsek is considered by Moore as "the top pro prospect in the league." He hits for both percentage and power. A Dolinsek grand slam boosted the Hornets to a 6-3 win over Ukiah already this year. And Moore's got catcher Ron Rowell, a four-year letterman, to add the experience behind the plate.

Five of the Hornets are returning varsity performers, 11 are up from junior varsity and two are transfers.

San Rafael pitching will be headed by four righthanders, John Patterson, Dave Hammond, Joe Cunningham and Tim Witt. Patterson is the most experienced. Coach Jack Sims feels this year's group will be a stronger hitting club than last year's. Expected to do most of the damage to opposing hurlers are Witt, who also roams the outfield, catcher Rocky Shone, third baseman Jay Widmer, shortstop Ken Lampert and centerfielder Ken Erdman. If all those boys play up to the expectation of Sims, San Rafael could pull off a big surprise.

Tam's got a rough deal. With construction of new physical education facilities going on at the Mill Valley campus, all Tam varsity and junior varsity baseball practice sessions are held at Project 17 field, which isn't large enough to do a good job. All Tam games are on opposing soil.

The Indians have only two regulars back from last year, centerfielder Larry Gray and first baseman Alex Robertson. Coach Al Ahlsten's varsity team won only three league games last year and the junior varsity boys won only one, so big things are not expected of this year's varsity delegation.

Doing most of the pitching for the Indians will be righthanders Ralph Garner and Greg Tellis.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Some Flounders Have Eyes On Left Side, Some On The Right

STEVENS

Just had a call from angler Gene Phillips of San Rafael. He and his wife, Jeane, are fond of flounder fillets, so, Gene being a member of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, they took their stance on the club's pier, Sunday. They caught an even dozen of the flatties. Eleven of these fish had the eyes on one side of the head, the other one on the opposite side.

Gene called me to ask if he had caught a freak of nature. Because so many fishermen have noted this peculiarity, here is the answer for all future questions. Most flat fish, the turbot, sand dab, halibut and the various species named sole, among them, are born as normal fish. As they grow, they turn over on the side and one of the eyes moves around to get close to the other eye.

THIS PHENOMENA has nothing to do with the sex of the fish. Mostly we catch the smaller starry flounder (the starry is listed at 15 to 20 pounds on an average), but there are some 600 species of flatfish, the one with the apparently misplaced eyes is merely a fish of a different species.

Historically, the flounder runs are due to slacken off very soon so better lay in a supply of fillets very soon.

STRIPER STRIVING seems to be fair, good, or indifferent according to where, how and when one fishes. On the Marin Side of San Pablo Bay it would be stretching the truth if rated better than fair, not that it is poor by any means, so let's term it "spotty." From Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia I learned that about 50 bass came in on Sunday, but 38 boats accounted for that number. Perhays an average of a fish and a half per boat out of China Camp and Joe's Launching is a fair average. Best locales seem to have been in rather shallow water in the Pump House area. Bull head baits continue to account for the larger fish.

On the Contra Costa side of the bay, results have been a trifle better, but not hot. Dowrelio's Nadine reported one boat landing 11 bass to 21 pounds and 3 sturgeon to 32 pounds. Carl of the Rodeo Marina reported some rather good catches: On Saturday in all that wind and rough water, Chet Anderson limited from 10 to 19 pounds; Sal Geanmobile and son, Larry, took five bass from 12 to 18 pounds; Frank Simon, skipper of the Bluefish out of the Rodeo Marina, took some nice salmon to 32½ pounds, Saturday, and Nish Yamamoto of San Leandro limited from 12 to 16 pounds.

TOM JONES, also from San Leandro, caught a 28 pound sturgeon; Ken Rill and wife boated two sturgeon to 32½ pounds, and Ray Smith of Hayward caught a 10 pound bass and a 41 pound sturgeon.

Bennett reported that while most of the larger fish were taken on bullheads, some very fair results were had on cut and filleted sardine.

Wilt, 76ers Nab Eastern NBA Semis

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We simply outdefensed them, and outshot them . . . and, of course, we did have Wilt Chamberlain."

Coach Dolph Schayes of the Philadelphia 76ers was happily pondering his team's 119-112 victory over the the Cincinnati Royals last night which wrapped up the Eastern Division semifinal playoffs three games to one and gave them a shot at the Boston Celtics in the finals.

There was no arguing Chamberlain spelled the difference. Consider: He scored 38 points, high for the night; had 26 rebounds, also high; blocked 10 Royal shots that seemed headed straight for the basket and handed off five assists.

Cincinnati just couldn't stop him. The three men who took turns trying to guard him committed a dozen fouls and Chamberlain, usually a poor shot at the free throw line, sank 10 of 16 tries.

"That was the difference right there," said Schayes.

But though Chamberlain was the standout, Schayes said it was a team effort all the way.

The boxscore attests to that. Hal Greer had 25 points, Chet Walker 20, Lucious Jackson 16.

"And our bench was superb when it counted," added Schayes. (John) Kerr dropped in two key baskets in the closing minutes and (Al) Bianchi and (Dave) Gambee were really tough on the defense."

DOWN FIGHTING

Chamberlain, admitting his sick pancreas "still aches me plenty," said he's looking forward to knocking off the Celtics, NBA champs for the past six years.

"We can do it," said Wilt.

"We have superior rebounding and if we stay healthy we'll beat them," said Schayes.

The opening game of the best-of-7 Eastern Division final series will be played at Boston Sunday afternoon.

Cookie Says He Wants To Be A Raider

OAKLAND (AP) — Fullback Cookie Gilchrist, traded by the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills to the Denver Broncos, says he would have rather been traded to the Oakland Raiders.

The all-league back said yesterday that he would have expressed his preference if coach Mac Spedie had conferred with him before the swap.

"I like it here and I feel the opportunities are so much better," the 250-pound backfield man said.

"I'm looking for something in promotions, selling, an opportunity for a person to grow and develop," Gilchrist said in an interview.

"Look," he added, "I think Denver is a fine city and those are fine people."

"If they (Denver) have my contract, and we come to terms over it, I'll be his fullback," Gilchrist said. "It's going to take a lot of money."

Marin PAL Baseballers Are Honored

The other four players were absent since they were participating in an outdoor education program near Napa.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk told the youths he thinks PAL is "wonderful" and gives the youths "an opportunity to play ball together and learn team work." Lt. William Porter, California Highway patrolman, said that after the team gets going "we may get enough policemen to get up a team, too."

He reminded the officers and youths of a vaudeville show to be presented Aug. 6 and 7 at College of Marin by National Guild of (old time) Variety Artists, of which the league will receive 25 per cent of the gross.

The team will play its first game in the San Francisco PAL, Northern League, Saturday, April 10, against Eureka Valley at Hennessy Diamond, Funston Playground, San Francisco.

Coach Has A Real Hardship

DENVER (AP) — When a U.S. court judge asked prospective jurors if serving might work a hardship, one hand shot up. It belonged to Fritz Brennecke, football coach at Colorado Mines.

"What's your excuse?" asked the judge.

"Judge, I'm a football coach and spring training begins Tuesday," said Brennecke, "and I lost all nine games last year."

"You're dismissed," said the judge.

Senate Re-Map Plan Due Soon

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate leader said today a reapportionment bill should be ready for committee action by April 25 and passed by the upper house several days before the end of the regular session on June 18.

Sen. Stephen Teale, D - West Point, said he agreed with Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns that there was enough support in the upper chamber to pass the measure.

Teale, in answering criticism of at-large election features of the proposed bill voiced by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, said:

"If the speaker waits until he sees how we work out this reapportionment bill he might be pleasantly surprised."

Unruh, Los Angeles Democrat, had indicated he would oppose certain sections and predicted it would not pass the Assembly.

Teale, who is responsible for drafting Senate reapportionment legislation, said many details of the plan still need to be worked out but "it should be down on paper within two or three weeks."

Teale said there were no concrete figures yet on how many senators each county or area would receive. He predicted, however, that Los Angeles would have between 12 and 15 senators. The big population center of 7 million is now represented by only one senator.

Teale also said the combined area of San Francisco and San Mateo County were entitled to three senators.

"On a projection basis," he said, "we believe it best to give San Francisco two senators now and San Mateo one."

Teale said an effort was being made to group together counties of mutual interests.

"Thus," he added, "If there are two senators from San Francisco and one from San Mateo, the area, which has similar interests, will be represented by three men."

Teale said reapportionment would not be on a strict population basis, "but the State of Washington court decision recently indicated we do not have to meet exactly the one man, one vote rule."

The main provision of the bill now, and the most controversial, calls for an at-large election in all multi-senator counties.

It also brought some criticism from Sen. Thomas Rees, D-Los Angeles.

"On principle," he said, "I must oppose any at-large elections. It would destroy the voting strength and rights of minority blocs."

Rees said if the reapportionment bill "is a move of strategy for the Senate, I probably will go along.

"But if they're serious about this bill," he said, "I will be forced to fight it on the floor. We should have senatorial districts in the large metropolitan areas."

State Senate Passes New Tough Smog Control Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Thousands of Californians will be denied $12-a-day disabilty insurance hospital benefits for off-the-job illness or injury beginning today.

The Brown administration cut off the benefits as the Senate—over the governor's objection—passed a bill pumping more money into the insolvent disability insurance fund, but reducing benefits to some 225,000 low income, part-time workers.

The action, on a 27-10 vote, sent the bill to the Assembly, whose speaker, Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles, has said "my present disposition would be to oppose" the upper house plan.

That indicates the measure will be thrown into a two-house conference committee.

The Senate's version of a bill previously passed by the Assembly would provide more money for the DI fund by raising worker earnings subject to a payroll tax from $5,600 to $6,900.

Gov. Brown and the Assembly Democratic leadership oppose the benefit cut contained in the Senate - passed measure. When the bill cleared the Assembly, with Brown's backing, it provided for a temporary increase in the payroll tax workers pay to support the fund plus fixing the taxable wage base permanently at $7,500. The Senate drew Brown's anger when it rewrote the Assembly bill by George Zenovich, D-Fresno.

Employment Director Albert Tieburg, in a move to "end bankruptcy" of the fund and "restore it to solvency" announced yesterday he has suspended the current daily hospital benefits for those submitting claims beginning today.

Vacaville Prisoner Art To Be Judged

VACAVILLE (AP) — More than 1,500 paintings of prisoner artists will be judged beginning tomorrow during a three-day art show at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville.

"A host of new talent," said Supt. William C. Keating, "has assured stiff competition for more established artists."

State Cutting Off Disability Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has sent a new auto smog control bill to the Assembly requiring crankcase devices on all post-1954 used cars in the 11 counties with air pollution districts.

The measure passed yesterday 27-10, a bare majority, after a first attempt to get the 27 necessary votes failed by two. The bill also would require that crankcase devices and exhaust devices be installed on all cars manufactured after 1966.

It sets up an installation schedule based on the last number of the license plate of used cars. Motorists whose plates end in one must obtain devices in January, two in February and so forth.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, the bill's sponsor, termed the measure "a billion dollar investment in good health." He estimated it would cost motorists that amount to install and maintain devices.

Used car owners would have to present certificates stating their cars are equipped with smog devices before they could get new license plates each year. Annual inspection of the devices is another requirement.

The present auto smog law would be changed by making the provisions applicable to 1955 and newer cars instead of 1950 and older cars. Foreign - made cars also are included under the bill.

Grade Level Poses Question For Student With Problems

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Should a student be retained at his present grade level for another year? This will be an important question for many individuals during the next few months.

This consideration should not come as a shock to parents. If a student is having extreme difficulty, parents should already know this. Their cooperation in helping the student is most important and should have been requested some time ago.

IS NON-PROMOTION the answer for all children with serious learning problems? Obviously, the answer is no. Most research shows that non-promotion has not been the solution.

There are many reasons why children fail to learn. Before any action is taken, it is most important that the cause of the problem be found. This means that a complete evaulation is necessary.

A THOROUGH physical examinations is indicated. This should include a dental, hearing and vision check. It is wise to consider the student's health habits such as sleeping and eating.

The extent of the student's academic weakness should be determined. This can be accomplished by combining the teacher's judgement with a variety of standard and diagnostic tests.

A QUALIFIED psychologist should evaluate the student's emotional and social adjustment. An estimate of the child's ability is valuable. The child's age, physical size, athletic ability, coordination, and general maturity are all important factors which will affect any decision.

After all the information is gathered, it should be reviewed by the principal, psychologist, guidance counsellor and parents. In this way the decision will have more validity than if action is based on inadequate evidence.

ANY ACTION should be directed towards correcting the cause of the problem. The child who has been absent a great deal may need tutoring. A child who has a hearing or vision problem may need glasses, hearing aid or special instruction. An emotional problem may require psychological treatment.

A student who is misplaced socially, academically, and physically might benefit from non-promotion. This should be done in the early grades. Learning problems are unnecessarily emphasized unless they are corrected in the early grades.

PARENTS CAN be most helpful if their child is retained. He will need a great deal of encouragement. He must know that he is still loved. He should not feel disgraced but should understand that he can be successful. He should feel that everyone is working with him and not against him.

Relief Now On The Way From Rock 'N Roll Clatter

ROME (UPI)—Relief is on the way for the human who is weary of listening to the incessant clatter of rock 'n' roll, jazz and beat music that reverberates from thousands of juke boxes in cafes, restaurants and bars.

The Italian juke-box industry currently is experimenting on a new machine which, in addition to a slot for the coins that set the contraption going, will possess an additional slot marked "silence." The insertion of a coin here will keep the machine quiet for a certain number of minutes.

MAN HAS ALWAYS paid for his amusements more willingly perhaps than for his necessities. But he had to wait until the 20th century to encounter a proposal that he pay not to be amused.

There are almost 20,000 juke boxes of various types—including cine-boxes offering the added horror of watching the performer on film—in operation in public places throughout Italy.

But Italy still is a long way from the 45,000 similar instruments of torture that constantly hammer away at the ear drums of West Germans and the 33,000 in tiny Belgium.

Market research analysts have now convinced the juke box industry's leaders that the racket made by their products has grated on the raw nerves of enough listeners to make it worth while to offer them silence—at a price.

WHILE TEEN-AGERS stuff juke boxes with coins to listen to the Beatles, Rolling Stones and other 'beat stars' make noise, other customers may be willing to insert coins into the noisemakers to get a few minutes of welcome silence.

IT SEEMS THAT the only winners will be the men of the juke box industry. After all, it is not every industry which can offer a product where the customer is willing to pay to listen to it—and also pay not to hear it.

Just think if you had to pay money every time you turned the television set on and did not want to hear the commercial.

On second thought, this might not be a bad idea. This could be commercial television's answer to pay television.

Small Wonder At Interest In Noise Control Today

Our civilization may be the world's most advanced, but it is also the noisiest. Day and night factories, autos, jet planes, radios and TV's and household appliances pour out their many sounds.

With the amount of noise in a family's life reaching new highs all the time, it's not surprising that people are beginning to take a real interest in noise control.

Physicians are blaming increase in noise for contributing to health problems, ranging from simple nervousness and tiredness to disturbances such as neuroses, migraine attacks, excessive fatigue, insomnia, emotional upsets and mentally-induced illnesses.

CONCERN OVER NOISE and its effects on people is spurring the growth of a new concept in house and apartment construction-sound conditioning. Modern architectural styles and the sleek, uncluttered look means increased use of flat, hard surfaces causing sound waves to bounce off of them. Add to this the vogue for area rugs instead of wall-to-wall carpeting, less use of over-stuffed furniture and fewer "dust catchers," and you have a room defenseless against the onslaught of sound waves.

Sound conditioning is becoming as important in creating a healthy home environment as heating and air conditioning. Builders who have added sound conditioning to new houses report that buyers are taking to it even though it may add slightly to the cost of the houses.

SO, IF YOU'RE in the market for a new home and are interested in making it a fortress against the noises of the outside world as well as within the home, here are some ideas you may want to consider for effective noise control.

Research has developed a number of applications of insulating and sound absorbing materials and construction techniques that will take the din out of life in a house or apartment.

In a house sound transmission through walls can be reduced by changing from the standard stud partition to partitions with slit or staggered studs. The addition of fibrous glass insulation blankets or noise stop boards will further reduce sound transmission. Floors and ceilings can be sound conditioned by using noise stop boards as floor underlayment. Gypsum board ceilings mounted on resilient clips with insulation blankets in between the joists will provide additional sound isolation.

STAGGERING INTERIOR doors instead of facing them across hallways reduces passage of sound. Doors should be tight fitting and sealed with a soft weatherstripping. Positive closure plates should be provided at the bottom of all doors where it is desired to reduce noise transmission. Windows should also be tight fitting and weatherstripped for airtightness.

Noise coming into a house from outside can be reduced in a number of ways. Trees and shrubs planted near the house or a sound fence (one without perforations or holes) will help reduce the level of outside sounds.

Softer Look Afoot

Joe Gandolfo, designer of young shoes, finds neither Beatles nor jeans a threat to his "softer, prettier look afoot" for spring. The wide sling, with a Chanel tip in a contrasting leather, gives the teen-ager the openness of current shoe styling, with the closed feeling that she wants because she is really a fashion conservative, he reports.

SAN RAFAEL BALLOT

By JEFF GREER
(Second of three articles)

If San Rafael voters approve Measure C on the municipal election ballot a week from next Monday, San Rafael may become a trailblazer city in providing locally controlled housing for the elderly.

The measure asks the voters to authorize the city council to develop up to 50 dwelling units for "eligible elderly persons of low income." How and when the city would get the project going would be up to the council. No bond financing is requested; pay-as-you-go construction is proposed.

What makes the San Rafael proposal different is that it would not depend on federal contributions—and hence would not be under federal controls. Federally financed housing cannot be selective as to the age of occupants, backers of the San Rafael plan point out.

Measure C is the result of studies by a citizens committee on housing for the elderly, appointed by Mayor John F. McInnis. Councilman Charles W. Aby was chairman of the committee. With cooperation of architect Gordon A. Phillips, who volunteered his time, plans were drawn for a pilot project of 10 one-bedroom units proposed for erection on 13,000 square feet of city-owned property at Fourth and Union streets.

According to 1964 estimates, cost of the compact units would be about $65,000 or $10 a square foot of living space. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen pointed out that a year's delay might mean a 5 per cent rise in costs.

The city proposes to require a minimum age of 65 and a maximum allowable income of $3,000 a year for occupants. The tenants also probably will be required to have been San Rafael residents for at least five or 10 years, according to City Manager Andersen.

A rent of approximately $60 per month is expected to amortize construction costs over 40 years. The city has owned the land for many years and it now is unused except "to grow grass," Doctor Aby pointed out.

No bond money is needed to get the project going because the council earmarked income from 5 cents on the tax rate for the project, rather than reduce the city rate during last year's budget sessions.

Many specific questions in the program remain to be worked out. Doctor Aby explained that he and fellow council members were ready to launch the elderly housing program this year, but were advised by the city attorney that it should be put to an election.

"This sort of brought things to a dead end until after the election," he said. The council will take the matter up again if Measure C is approved.

Questioned as to whether the city property near the San Rafael High School and the Montecito shopping district is not too valuable as commercial property, and might not create tenancy problems because of noise from students, Doctor Aby commented.

"Property is very valuable anywhere in Marin County. But if we could come up with a comparable piece of land as conveniently located for the senior citizens, we might make a trade."

Aby said that regardless of the composition of the council following the April 12 election, and whether he is elected mayor or remains as a councilman, he will press for a speedy start on the housing project if it meets voter approval.

"I am thoroughly in favor of it, and want to see the council carry it through," he stressed.

(Tomorrow: San Rafael Elementary School District bond and tax rate propositions.)

Gets Probation, Fine For Polluting Creek

Richard Fallon of Lagunitas was placed on a year's probation and fined $50 yesterday by Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Judicial District Court for polluting Paper Mill Creek near his home with garbage and kennel scrapings.

Fallon pleaded guilty to the charge. State Fish and Game Warden Albert F. Giddings noted that since the charge was made against Fallon last week, the situation had improved and Fallon had hired a garbage collector.

Safe Is Stolen From School

Someone stole the safe from San Jose Intermediate School Tuesday night, Duane Moeller, assistant superintendent of San Jose School District, reported to Novato police.

The safe weighed approximately 100 pounds, Moeller said. It contained an undetermined amount of cash from several school funds, he reported.

Neither school officials nor police could find any sign of forced entry to the school office where the safe was kept.

WHERE BUT IN MILL VALLEY?

"Deer Crossing" signs have been installed on both sides of Miller Avenue in the 200 block, practically downtown in Mill Valley, an order of Police Chief Dan Terzich. It's no idle gesture. Chief Terzich said many deer, crossing the street on their way from the hillside to munch on grass and shrubs in town, have been killed by cars on the route, which is much used by commuters. Broemmel Says South Marin Appraisals Up

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said today that land appraisals in Mill Valley, Tiburon and rural areas will go up with the new assessment roll for taxes, but the increases will not be so hefty as those in Sausalito and West Marin last year.

Mill Valley and Tiburon are being re-appraised under the assessor's "cyclical" appraisal program. Last time property was re-appraised in these areas was in 1960.

Broemmel could make no prediction today on the size of the increase, but said it would not be so big as in Sausalito, where developed land rose by 50 per cent and undeveloped land rose even more.

Rural land that is not directly affected by subdivision, last reappraised in 1961, is also under study. Broemmel predicted an average increase of about 25 per cent. In 1961 it rose about 20 per cent, he said.

This study involves land in the Tomales area and in Nicasio Valley.

Broemmel said Point Reyes Peninsula is also being studied, but he could make no prediction on the outcome there, saying the situation is complicated by federal purchase of property for the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Young Assembly Aides Play Part In Brown-Unruh Rift

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Anonymous young men play a big part in the off-and-on war between legislators and Gov. Brown.

They are the more than 30 consultants installed by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh to give his house a mind of its own.

From their offices have come a series of reports critical of the way Brown's appointees have handled care of the mentally ill and retarded, economic planning water and resources policy and other major state issues.

Opinion in the Capitol is divided over this effort to fill Assembly offices with consultants who still have a touch of the college campus about them.

Speaker Unruh says they permit Assembly committees to "take an independent view of the executive department's programs" and allow the legislature to offer "alternative recommendations."

But one of the governor's close associates, commenting on a piece of consultants' research, said the young men were acting as "a political arm." He referred to work on administration fund transfers that played a part in a recent Democratic legislator's attack on the administration.

Typical of the consultants is David Doerr, 31, the $1,035-a-month aide to the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee.

This relative novice in government, along with his 30-year-old assistant, Ray Sullivan, did the detail work for the Assembly leadership's pioneering $1 billion tax program that will be introduced b Chairman Nicholas C. Petris of the Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Ronald Robie, 28, $1,035 - a-month consultant to the Assembly Water Committee, does the research that his boss, Chairman Carley V. Porter, D-Compton, uses to criticize Brown's Water Resources Department.

Opposed to him — and his chairman — at times are Hugo Fisher, the $27,500- a - year administrator of the Resources Agency and William E. Warne, a veteran public servant who draws $24,500 annually for running the Water Resources Department.

Ken Cory, 27, now the $1,150-month - aide to the Assembly Rules Committee, attracted Unruh's attention last year as a consultant to the Education Committee. He did all the mathematical calculations and figured the effects of the Unruh school unification bill — a far reaching measure aimed at reducing class sizes and combining school districts.

In the fierce negotiations preceding the bill's passage, young Cory was forced to match school knowledge with an acknowledge expert in school finance, Dr. Ronald Cox, chief of the Education Department's division of public school administration.

The administration criticism that the consultants, in at least one case, acted as a "political arm" raises the question of how does the Assembly select these men, who often work closely with the politically ambitious speaker.

Unruh's aides say politics aren't involved. Of the 31 consultants now on the payroll, only three have been paid workers in past political campaigns. They are Cory, Steve Smith—$1,200-a-month consultant to the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee—and Lee Nichols, who draws $1,250 as the Assembly's chief consultant.

Many of the others have come from the Ford Foundation's legislative intern program. With the foundation and the Assembly splitting the costs, graduate students are employed as "interns" for nine months work with a committee.

Before a consultant is hired, the speaker's office, the committee chairman and the Rules Committee of four Democrats and three Republicans must approve.

Consultants admit their work sometimes plays a part in the friction between the speaker and the governor. But they say that's because of normal conflict between the legislature and the executive—not politics.

Unruh, a Democrat, says they give the legislature the information to make its own decisions when presented with administration programs prepared "by a heavily endowed staff" after "perhaps hundreds of conferences."

Once, he said, the legislators sought all their advice from special interest lobbyists.

Now, he said, "we can no longer afford a legislature equipped to compete in the horse - and-buggy era."

Suspect, 46, Picked Up In Lumber Yard

Booked in county jail for investigation of burglary was Charlums Bonner. Bail had not been set at noon today.

Deputy Billie Dews was on patrol about 10 p.m. when he saw a man inside the darkened yard. He turned his spotlight on the man, then radioed for aid.

Three other deputies arrived. They found Bonner hiding behind a pile of lumber, they reported. A car parked about 40 yards from the yard, believed driven by Bonner, was confiscated.

Deputies said search of the grounds disclosed an unsuccessful attempt had been made to pry a sliding door of the company's main building at 775 Redwood Highway.

Two Summer Sessions Are Slated

Summer school in Reed School District again this year will be divided into two sessions, one concentrating on scholarship, the other on recreation.

Classes will begin June 21 and end July 16 at Bel Aire School. Recreational activities at Reed School will be from June 21 to July 30. Donald B. Cowan, fifth-sixth grade teacher at Bel Aire, will be summer school principal.

Classes from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be divided into areas for remedial, supplmentary (by invitation) "enrichment," classes for gifted children and for the educationally handicapped.

The recreation program from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. will include field thips, hobbies work, story telling, children's drama and arts and crafts.

Summer school applications will be available next week; tentative deadline for submitting them is April 23. No bus service will be provided.

Vote Campaigns To Be Discussed

Prof. Jack Kent of the University of California School of City and Regional Planning in Berkeley will speak on "Getting Your Man Elected" at a meeting of the Sausalito Democratic Club next Monday at 8:15 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Woelfel, 93 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito.

Kent, who has been active in Berkeley school board politics, will talk on conducting grass roots campaigns on local issues.

Calabasas, located in Los Angeles County, is reported to have received its name from the Spanish word for gourds, which grew here so abundantly in the early days.

Veterans' Aide May Get Disaster Post

James V. Burdick, veterans service officer for Marin County, will get a new title in July if a budget recommendation is approved.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said today he will recommend consolidation of the civil defense department with the veterans department as a money saving move.

It means that Burdick will have the title of veterans service officer-assistant disaster defense coordinator, or something like that," Bruce said.

He recommended the merger to the board of supervisors a year ago.

Jean Smith is now assistant disaster defense coordinator. She plans to retire in July, Bruce said. The chairman of the board of supervisors has the title of coordinator.

Temporary Release Sought For Inmate

Judge Stanley A. Weigel of Federal District Court in San Francisco will hear a motion at 9:30 a.m. next Thursday asking that he release San Quentin inmate Fred Russell Harris on his own recognizance pending an appeal of an order that he be set free permanently.

Harris's attorney, N. Rommel Bondoc, will ask for the temporary release. Judge Weigel issued a writ of habeas corpus ordering Harris's release because he had no attorney when he was convicted of armed robbery 11 years ago, but the state attorney general's office appealed the decision.

Terra Linda Drama Club To Perform

The Terra Linda High School Drama Club will present several recent theatrical developments at a drama club assembly at the school April 9.

With "imagination" as the theme, the club will present a scene from "The Mad Woman of Chaillot" and one from "The Crucible." There will also be demonstrations of modern dance and a satirical presentation patterned on "The Committee."

Ross Schedules Special Session On Antique Shop

Ross Town Council will hold a special meeting in the Town Hall at 8 p.m. today for more discussion on a variance requested by Marin Art and Garden Center to permit relocation of an antique shop to the former Ivancovich residence on Laurel Grove Avenue.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen, who called the special meeting, said he hopes thus to clear a potentially lengthy discussion from the agenda for the council's regular meeting next week.

The variance permit was requested earlier by the center; action was postponed to April 8. At tonight's session, councilmen and center officials can discuss the matter, but no formal action may be taken until next week, Mayor Allen explained.

Firm Has Low Bid On Prison Job

L. H. Leonardi Electrical Co. of San Rafael submitted a low bid of $40,743 for the electrical work contract on the inmate activity building at San Quentin Prison, the state office of architecture and construction announced yesterday.

The office opened low bids totalling $523,433 for the job, which had been estimated to cost $506,000.

The low bid for general work was $381,000, submitted by Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco. W. K. Kubon of San Rafael submitted a bid of $396,883.

The activity building will be constructed on the site of the old jute mill at the prison. The present activity building is the old industrial building, approximately 100 years old according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

The new building will have basketball and handball courts, a boxing ring, volley ball, tennis and badminton facilities and wrestling and tumbling areas. Equipment storage rooms, shower facilities and a small mezzanine for offices will also be part of the building.

Originally Palomar Mountain was called Smith Mountain for Joseph Smith, Mormon leader. The Indian name was simply "Paouw" — mountain.

Town Is Facing Rec Tax Election

Corte Madera voters April 20 will be asked to approve, technically a six-cent limit on a special recreation facilities tax which is not now used.

The town council could levy the tax in a larger amount without voter approval.

Yet the council's intent, as stated in the sample ballot argument for passage, signed by all council members, is to raise the town tax rate by using the special tax, if voters say "yes."

The measure is for "park and recreation facilities," following the words of a state law. The intent, again as stated officially by the council, is to use the extra funds to support the Larkspur - Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission program.

Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis has held that a "program" is a "facility" under the state law.

Corte Madera now levies a tax of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation for general governmental purposes. In the past, support for the recreation program has come from money collected with that tax.

In addition, the town levies a 15-cent tax for park development, with funds used mainly on the improvement of the town park. Finally, there was this year a 14-cent tax for bond redemption, for a total city tax rate of $1.09.

The new park and recreation tax would be in addition to all of the taxes now levied. According to Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, it would assure the joint recreation commission enough money for its program. It was Colthurst who asked for the election.

The present budget of the commission indicates that no more than four cents would actually have to be levied.

Voter approval actually is unnecessary. As a general law city, Corte Madera could levy a $1 general purpose tax, plus additional taxes for recreation and parks and for redemption of bond issues that were authorized by the electorate.

Approval will inform the council of willingness by voters to continue the present recreation program, Colthurst noted.

Children Give Surprise To 'Mr. Postman'

There was quite a surprise in store for postman Arthur J. Quinn yesterday when he took the mail to Sleepy Hollow School for the last time.

Quinn, 62, of 2 East Street, San Rafael, was greeted by a huge banner, painted by children of the upper grades, wishing him good luck before retiring after almost 30 years service in the area.

Inside there were a stack of greeting cards for him and an iced cake shaped like a mail box. The school children knew him as the friendly postman—he used to hand out candy once in awhile.

Quinn, a native of San Anselmo, has been doing the rounds for the Hub City post office for 22 years, delivering mail to the school since it was built 14 years ago.

He has a twin brother, Frank, who works in the San Anselmo post office as a carrier. Frank may continue three more years before retirement.

Public Meeting Scheduled On Wolfe Grade Extension

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has scheduled a public meeting to discuss his proposal for inclusion of Wolfe Grade extension in the Kentfield Master Plan at 8 p.m. April 21 at Adaline E. Kent School.

Supervisors earlier voted 3-2 against inclusion of the extension with Kettenhofen and Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker in the minority. Since that vote Kettenhofen has been meeting with citizens in the area trying to encourage acceptance of the extension with certain conditions.

Kettenhofen will explain his proposal fully at the April 21 meeting. He told supervisors Tuesday that he had hoped to hold the meeting April 19 but he announced yesterday that it would be two days later.

The board has agreed to reconsider the Wolfe Grade extension and the Kentfield Master Plan at an evening hearing April 26.

Bridge Tourney Starts Tomorrow

Marin County's biggest bridge tournament of the year will open tomorrow for a three-day run at Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael.

Marin card players will join hundreds of experts from throughout the state to vie for prizes and points at the 10th annual Marin County sectional championship. The tournament includes side sessions for novices and the less experienced.

Tomorrow: 1:30 p.m. women's and men's pairs; 8 p.m. mixed pairs.

Saturday: George Barton Memorial Trophy open pairs, double session, 1:30 and 8 p.m.

Hub School Board Candidate Night Set

Candidates for election to the San Anselmo School District board April 20 will appear at a candidates' night meeting April 8 at 8 p.m. at the Isabel Cook School auditorium. The meeting is sponsored by parents' clubs in the district.

Seeking the three positions open on the board are incumbents Robert W. Corlett and Joseph E. Tilt, Franklin C. Latcham, James L. Husband and Pieter Toal.

Robert I. Conn is city attorney of Tiburon.

Registration Set For Kindergarten

Kindergarten pre-registration for children of Fairfax School District will be held Tuesday from 1 to 4 p.m. at Deer Park and Manor schools.

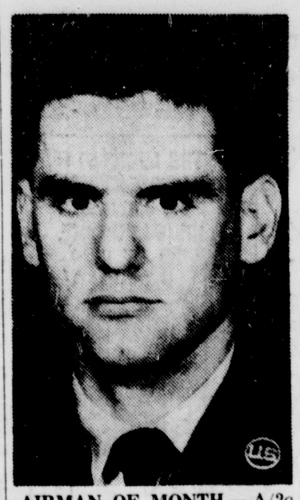
Dist. Supt. Homer L. Sisk said to be eligible, children must have been four years old on or before last Dec. 2.

San Rafael Senior Gets Scholarship

Edith Livingstone, a senior at San Rafael High School, has been awarded a $1,000-a-year scholarship, renewable each year, to Boston University in Boston, Mass.

Edith, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. William T. Livingstone of 217 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, will have to maintain a satisfactory academic standing to retain the scholarship, which was awarded by the university. She plans to major in psychology.

The name of the City of Pasadena was coined in 1875 by Thomas B. Elliott, of the original "Indiana Colony of Hoosiers" from several Chippewa Indian words. The meaning of Pasadena, by implication, though not literally, is "Key of the Valley," or "Crown of the Valley."



AIRMAN OF MONTH — A/2c Jeffry L. Herrick has been chosen "Airman of the Month" at Hamilton Air Force Base. Herrick, who works in the base personnel equipment section of the 78th Supply Squadron, received prizes and was excused from extra squadron duties for the month. He and his wife, Virginia, live at 12 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

Four Youths From County Enlist In Army

Four young Marin residents have enlisted in the Army.

Pvt. Robert L. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stephens of 670 Plum Street, Novato, will be assigned to training in combat engineering after he completes basic training at Fort Polk, La., the Army said.

Pvt. Patrick C. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Johnston of Forest Knolls, will be assigned to an Army unit in Alaska after he completes training.

Pvt. Tyson A. Christiansen, son of Mr .and Mrs. Harold W. Christiansen of 455 Canal Street, San Rafael, will be assigned to an Infantry unit in Europe.

Pvt. Daryll Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howard of 1208 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, will receive eight weeks basic training at Fort Polk, La., and will then receive training in administration.

All four signed up under the enlistment option program which allowed them to choose either the type of training they receive or the place they will be assigned.

Students Studying Russian On Own Time

Formation of the Russian Interest Club came a month ago after the San Rafael Board of Education voted against including Russian language in the curriculum next fall.

Terra Linda language teacher Elizabeth Nichols, who organized the club, said it was prompted by student curiosity.

"I don't like to stifle their curiosity," Mrs. Nichols said.

She said formation of the club was not in conflict with the board of education's decision since it does not involve school time and there is no cost for textbooks. She has been teaching from a text, but the students must supply their own books for home study.

The club meets every Thursday afternoon. Size of the sessions vary from 10 to 20 students, she said. The group also studies Russian culture and customs.

Mrs. Nichols volunteers her own time for the sessions.

Loch Lomond Postal Office Bids Sought

In an arrangement for a contract station, the post office department pays rent on the space used for the station and the successful bidder provides facilities for sale of money orders, stamps, air letters, stamped envelopes and post cards, a safe and cabinets, and clerical personnel to operate the station. A bond of $3,000 must be posted by the successful bidder, Williams said.

Wilkinson was one of 64 young artists chosen by the festival judges from among 245 applicants. He will be accompanied by Calvin Arnason of Millbrae on the piano. The festival takes place on April 23, 24 and 25.

Today is Thursday, April 1, the 91st day of 1965 with 274 to follow. It's also known as April Fools' Day.

The moon is new. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Mercury.

Otto von Bismarck, the founder of the German state was born on this day in 1815.

On this day in history:

In 1937, Great Britain separated Burma from India and set it up as a Crown Colony with its own legislature and British governor.

In 1939, Generalissimo Francisco Franco announced that the Spanish Civil War had ended. The U.S. extended recognition to the Franco regime.

A Thought for the Day — Britian's wartime prime minister, Sir Winston Churchill, said of the Royal Air Force in 1940: "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Keep Something Back In Case Of Bad Luck

If you sometimes wonder what our college students are taught you'll be pleased to discover that they got a very useful lesson in the recent Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament.

EATS CAKE

If so, declarer eats his cake then and there. East covers with the king of spades, and the value of the queen of spades is gone for the rest of that hand.

Sooner or later the defenders get two spades and two diamonds.

THREE ROUNDS

South draws three rounds of trumps and then leads a diamond to try a finesse with dummy's 10. East wins and must return a club. East cannot afford to return a spade because dummy's queen would then win a trick.

The queen of spades will never win a trick for South but it stops East from leading spades.

South ruffs the club return and tries another diamond finesse, this time with the queen. East wins with the king of diamonds and once more must return a club. It is still unsafe for East to lead spades.

SOUTH RUFFS

South ruffs the club and leads a diamond to dummy's ace. When both missing diamonds fall, declarer can discard a losing spade on dummy's last diamond.

If the diamonds had broken badly, South could get to his hand by ruffing a club or diamond and could then lead a spade toward dummy's queen.

Negro Girl One Of 10 To Win Scholarship

A Tamalpais High School senior, Miss Williams plans to study pre-law at Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Ore.

Why law? she was asked.

"I'm interested in working with people. I wanted to do something to help people and was considering sociology. I was also very interested in psychology. I find my main talent is in speaking and so, with my interest in people and psychology, I decided on law. I find law fascinating."

The National Merit Scholarship Corp. this year for the first time offered a special national scholarship program for Negro students. Some 4,200 candidates were nominated by 1,300 high schools. From these, 225 were selected to receive the scholarships, representing 33 states and the District of Columbia.

Miss Williams' scholarship will be an amount running the maximum of $6,000 for the four years to a minimum of $250 a year, the figure being based on the contribution or income a student is able to produce toward his education.

Very active at school, Miss Williams is a member of Honor T, California Scholarship Federation and the Spanish Honor Society, vice president of Pai Alpha Tau and selected as an honor student by the school yearbook, Pai, for 1965.

She is president of the Tamalpais High Organization for Racial Understanding, a member of the French Club and head of the student government's by-laws committee. She was junior class treasurer and Honor T society secretary last year.

She won the Lions Club speech contest in both Sausalito and Mill Valley and, in February, took top honors at the Lions zone contest held at Corte Madera.

She has an older brother, Richard, a student at College of Marin, and a sister, Deborah, who attends Central School, Sausalito. She has lived in Marin four years. Her father works in the Sixth Army Medical Laboratory at Fort Baker.

Underwater Film Last In Series

"Village Beneath the Sea," a color film and lecture by Harry Pedersen, will be the last presentation for this year of the Belvedere - Tiburon cultural series, in Del Mar School auditorium Sunday at 3 p.m.

Pedersen, producer of the film, is a leading underwater photographer. He has taken underwater moving pictures for Rachel Carson's "The Sea Around Us" and many Walt Disney productions.

Dance Theme

"Pop Art" will be the theme of a student body dance from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the Redwood High School gymnasium.

Elderly Master Plan To Be Aired

Three major sections of a master plan designed to develop services needed by Marin County's older residents will be aired for the first time Monday at 8 p.m., when the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Marin Council of Community Services holds the first of three scheduled meetings at 2144 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

The committee, set up last year by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, will meet also on April 12 and April 19 to consider drafts of the scheme. Recommendations are expected to go before the Board of Supervisors in May.

School Art Exhibit

An art exhibit scheduled April 21-23 in the senior patio at Terra Linda High School will be staged by the school art club in honor of the senior class.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Northern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of almost 5 to 1 MORE than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Southern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 2 to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

BOLINAS BEACH PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT

The Board of Directors of the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District, at this time, wish to make a statement of the District's tax rate.

In June of 1964, the District's new 425,000 gallon water storage tank and 10 inch pipeline transmission system was completed, providing improved water service to users in the District.

The tax rate throughout Marin County in general, but in this area in particular, has seen a tremendous increase this year. However, we are pleased to announce that this District has been able to lower its tax rate. Last year the rate for this District was $2.99 per $100.00 assessed valuation. This year it has been lowered to only $1.29 per $100.00.

End To Death Penalty Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature has been urged by the Rt. Rev. Clarence R. Haden, Jr., Episcopal bishop of Northern California, to abolish the death penalty.

"As Christians, we oppose the death penalty because the church's purpose is to redeem, not punish, to rehabilitate, not destroy," the bishop said in a letter to the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee yesterday.

He urged the committee approve a bill by Assemblyman Lester McMillan, D-Los Angeles, that would substitute life in prison without possibility of parole for the death penalty.

Rope spinning originated in Mexico. A Mexican member of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, Vincenti Orespo, introduced the custom in the late 1880s and it was adopted by American cowboys.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Commercial Video Worth School Study

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The winter edition of the journal called "Television Quarterly" contains an article urging teachers to make classroom use of the commercial video shows their students watch at home.

The article is the work of an earnest and vigorously intelligent young man named Ned Hoopes, who was the host of the now-defunct CBS-TV children's show "The Reading Room," and who, according to Television Quarterly, is currently on the faculty of Hunter College High School and Hunter College in New York.

The Hoopes memorandum was delivered as a paper last November at the annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English in Cleveland, and is abridged in its present form. And, in fact, the subject he deals with was a topic of considerable interest at the teachers' meeting, being hashed over, among other places, at a television symposium there in which this viewer took part.

I have only a foggy recollection of the convention, the atmosphere of conventions being what they are; but I distinctly remember Hoopes sitting on my left in the roundtable symposium in a very nice restaurant. And though my flickering impression now is that I felt him to be too optimistic about what commercial television might actually be expected to accomplish with significant social subjects, I do recall that we agreed to some degree about classroom use of video shows.

My chief point, however, was that television entertainment was bad and would probably get worse, but that there was no reason why the study of bad values and false situations could not be just as good a starting point — and just as worthwhile — as the study of positive and true values and situations. Television Quarterly, which is the journal of the TV Academy, notes that Hoopes' remarks were directed at the secondary-school English teacher, but it seems to me his ideas have value for teachers of various levels, and not only of English.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Rep. Edwin E. Willis, chairman of the House-Un-American Activities Committee, is interviewed on CBS-TV's "Face The Nation" Sunday. . ."United Nations: Beleagured Fortress" is the title of the "CBS Reports" hour April 19, and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson appears on the program.

Committee Cuts Military Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee cut $13 million from the military hardware and research authorization bill yesterday but included unasked millions for an advanced bomber and two additional nuclear submarines.

The authorization measure — totaling $15,284,000,000 — was approved unanimously by the committee.

The bill includes $82 million extra to hasten "development of an advanced manned bomber" and $136.6 million for two more nuclear submarines than had been requested by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson Will Ask Aerospace Exposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans to ask Congress for $2.5 million to stage a two-week international aerospace exposition in the summer of 1966 to sell American aviation and space products to government and commercial buyers from around the world.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby reported after confering with Johnson yesterday that such a show would enable the United States to go into competition with the Soviet Union, Britain and France in the aerospace product field.

Sausalito comes from Sausalitos, little willows; a clump of willows. It was was spelled "Saucelitos" in early days and that spelling is still applied to the Saucelito Canal on official maps.

Girl Awarded Scholarship To Continue Piano Study

Marilyn Turner of Marinwood, a senior at Dominican Upper School in San Rafael, has been awarded a $4,000 scholarship to continue piano study at Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

Award of the scholarship by the Rochester school was announced today by Sister Maurice, O.P., principal of Dominican Upper School, and Sister Francis Xavier, O.P., head of its music department.

Marilyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham A. Turner of 1295 Idylberry Road, has been studying music with pianist Faith France of the Dominican faculty.

A member of the California Scholarship Federation and a participant in many school extra-curricular activities, the young pianist was awarded the scholarship on the basis of her school record and a taped recording of a program she performed.

Marilyn was a soloist with the Marin Youth Orchestra in its spring concert in January.
